

Agile Planning Cards Receive Five Star Reviews

February 04, 2020

February 04, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

ASIAm Life, based in Sunnyvale, California, has revealed that the Agile Inspirations Planning Poker Cards for Estimation that they offer on Amazon have received five star reviews. These cards are available on Amazon through <https://www.amazon.com/dp/B06ZYLFDJW>. These are available in packs of 2 decks and they come in 1 pack or 2 packs. Six sets of cards are contained in 1 deck. These Agile Planning Cards can be utilized for playing Planning Poker. Because of their color and design, these cards can make it easy to estimate and have fun with it. The goal is to initiate conversation among team members regarding user stories and reach a consensus on sizing. These cards have been ensured to be durable to allow them to be used over and over for every planning session. Also, a box is provided for more protection.

For instance, one of the Amazon customers gave the cards a five star rating and said, "[?] Each deck is a 10/10. Great feel to the cards, all the right extra cards for most any application, they're perfect. Things do get a little hairy if you need to use 2+ decks at once, but personally I'm just using the second deck as a backup as they're handed to two different team members to bring to the meeting. In that use case, the set is still a 10/10."

Paul B., another Amazon customer, also gave the Agile Planning Cards a five star rating and said, "This set has planning poker cards for 6 people. Each set has all the cards I want to use for story estimation. A couple of the colors are pretty similar, so you'll need to look closely to separate them if the cards should get mixed up. They have been working well for my team.?

Agile Inspirations is a company that is focused on helping teams transform and be agile. More information can be obtained about this company by following their Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/agileinspirations/>. Being agile is a mindset where the team is focused on continuously improving, learning, and growing. According to the company, the "Spirit of Agile" is having excellent communication, transparency, and great collaboration. By having the "Spirit of Agile," these teams are expected to accomplish their tasks and provide excellent results.

Aside from the Agile Planning Cards, Agile Inspirations also offers Appreciation Cards with Lapel Pin. This is a set of five Greeting Cards with Lapel Pins and they are used for showing appreciation and for thanking someone who has made a difference in one's life. This could have been at school, church, work, a sports game, an event, an organization, or even in the home. The greeting cards have been given five different labels: Teamwork, Leadership, Above & Beyond, Innovation, and Customer Focus.

It should be noted that as part of its commitment to helping teams become agile, Agile Inspirations has a blog that posts articles that can help teams in achieving this. Topics discussed in these articles include easy and inexpensive ways to recognize employees; the observation that effective agile teams are high-performing teams; agile estimation and various estimation strategies; how to facilitate an agile working session; servant leadership in an agile culture; and agile estimation exercises for the team.

Those who would like to learn more about the Agile Planning Cards and other products from Agile Inspirations can check out the website at <https://agileinspirations.com>, or contact them on the phone, or through email.

###

For more information about AsIAm Life, contact the company here: AsIAm Life
Jane650-521-4499support@asiamlife.com1111 W El Camino Real Ste 109-286Sunnyvale, CA 94087

AsIAm Life

AsIAm Life creates bold and exciting products for the office and home.

Email: support@asiamlife.com

Phone: 650-521-4499

