Chicago Website Design SEO Company has been in the forefront of providing top quality SEO services and other website services for years. The company also takes pride in providing useful information that webmasters can use when managing their business website. Recently, the company has released a Bluehost review that highlights all the features provided by this web hosting service provider. The review is aimed at ensuring that website owners know exactly what they will get when they choose to work with Bluehost.

Jack Lombardi an SEO expert and founder of Chicago Website Design SEO company said, "There was a report from Google that indicated that most mobile websites are below average when it comes to load speed.

"Slow speeds will greatly affect your website and consequently affect your business. This is because Google does not like slow sites and neither do users. After uptime, load speed is the second thing that can break your business' consistency. Luckily, Bluehost has the kind of speed that all websites should be striving for. With 398ms, it gets into the top 10 fastest websites we have ever tested which is a good feature.

"Price is one of the main elements that people look at when they are looking for hosting solutions. Well, Bluehost has made sure that they are among the most reasonably priced services considering all the features they offer. Bluehost has a plan that starts as low as $3.95 per month which is a good deal that was reduced from $7.99 per month.

?For $3.95 per month, you will enjoy everything you need for a single website. The package comes with unmetered bandwidth, free SSL certificate, 50 GB storage, and much more,? added Jack.
