

Phoenix AC & Heating Experts Offer Rebates for AC Unit Replacement for Refrigerant

February 10, 2020

February 10, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Phoenix AC & Heating Experts, based in Phoenix, Arizona, has announced that they are offering rebates for R22 air conditioning unit replacements. 2020 is the year when the R22 refrigerant can no longer be produced, imported or used in the U.S., except for continuing service needs of existing AC units, according to the R22 phaseout timeline by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). With the R22 refrigerant no longer available, older AC units that use R22 and need to be repaired will have to be replaced. With the summer season approaching, Phoenix AC is offering some rebates for R22 AC unit replacements.

The phaseout of the R22 refrigerant had to be implemented because of the negative effects of R22 on the ozone layer. Scientists had previously discovered a large hole in the ozone layer above Antarctica and it is believed that compounds, like R22, that release chlorine and bromine gases into the stratosphere, are responsible for that hole. The ozone layer is composed of oxygen molecules and acts as a shield from the Sun's ultraviolet light by absorbing 97 to 99 percent of it.

While there may be very limited quantities of R22 that can be used in the repair of older air conditioning units, these will come from recycled or stockpiled quantities of R22 and will be very expensive. Thus, it is no longer advisable to have old units repaired, particularly when the energy efficiency of new units are now much higher compared to the older units. The new AC units can substantially reduce the energy bill while the older units will require more and more frequent repairs while continuing to gobble up larger amounts of energy.

Linda Adams, a spokesperson for Phoenix AC & Heating Experts, says, "If you need to have your old air conditioning unit replaced, you've come to the right place. You can take advantage of our rebates. We install both residential air conditioning and commercial air conditioning. Anytime you are investing your time or your hard earned money into an AC system, you deserve the very best service you can get. We have been serving the valley since 2002 and our experience is collectively over 100 years in the industry. Our partners are a factory authorized dealer and repair company for Day and Night, Trane, York, Carrier and American Standard."

Aside from air conditioning or heating equipment installation and repair services, Phoenix AC & Heating Experts can also help with residential or commercial air ducts. Air ducts form those network of tubes that carry air the from central air conditioning and heating system to every room of the home or building. These ducts have to be properly insulated and should not leak air, otherwise they could cost significant amounts of money in energy bills. The company can provide the professional HVAC technicians who will be able to make sure that the air duct system is running efficiently.

Having the air ducts cleaned is necessary not just for energy efficiency but also for health reasons. This is because dirt can build up in the air ducts. Research has shown that an average home deals with 40 pounds of dust everyday and a major portion of this remains trapped in the air duct system. The accumulated dust and other debris can harbor bacteria and possible allergens and could possibly cause some members of the family to suffer from allergies. And in addition to the health hazard posed by the accumulated dust and dirt, these can also result in higher energy bills and possibly reduce the life span of the HVAC system.

Phoenix AC & Heating Experts is a local contractor referral service of a pre-screened HVAC company. As such, they have partnered with the same family owned and operated HVAC business in Phoenix for many years.

Those who are interested in having their old AC units replaced by the new and more efficient units can visit the Phoenix AC & Heating Experts website or contact them by phone or through email. They are open 24 hours a day, from Monday to Saturday.
