FISHERS, Ind. ? The Higher Health Foundation, maker of natural health and beauty products, today announced the debut of SilaLive Silica, which enables a new whole body approach to detoxification and cellular regeneration. Using the mineral Silica, commonly found in sand and other natural substances, SilaLive takes a vital biological role as an activator and stimulator, helping improve natural beauty qualities; skin, hair, nails, bones and provides an internal cleansing, scrubbing and flushing sensation.

?Our bodies have a natural self-cleansing for maintaining a clean, healthy body and our ?river of life? ? our blood,? said [spokesperson.] ?It's essential we keep our entire bodily machinery from head to toes healthy and in good working order so nothing breaks down. That?s what SilaLive helps you with.?

Silica is the chemical name of quartz, which can also be known as silicon dioxide. In pharmaceuticals, it is used as a filler, or in food production as an anti-coagulant. It is also used in the manufacturing of cast iron and ceramics. It is found naturally in granite, obsidian and sandstone. After it is processed it becomes like ferrosilicon or silicon.

Silica, which is the most abundant mineral in the human body, acts as the stabilizing force. It is known for restoring the balance which is necessary between magnesium and calcium. Deficiencies in Silica can lead to hormonal problems. Silica also stabilizes a lot of different structures, which includes bodily tissues, arterial walls and membranes. The body uses Silica to to form collagen, which is the protein that is responsible for keeping skin from developing wrinkles. Silica allows the body to absorb calcium, which will contributes to healthy and strong bones.

SilaLive is carefully manufactured and cared for by Higher Health Foundation, whose sole intention and higher purpose is to enlighten the mind, empower the body, and enrich the spirit for better quality of life, health, and happiness. For more Information, visit www.silalive.com.
