Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam based Back of the Bike Tours is pleased to announce that their new tour routes are now available for booking. Travelers who are planning to visit the local area are welcome to reach out to the company?s representatives for more information.

Seeking to reinforce their reputation among Vietnam's best tourist companies, Back of the Bike Tours has updated the routes to two of their most popular tours, the 'Heartbeat of Ho Chi Minh City,' and 'The Saigon Night Rider.' With these changes, the company promises that their clients will be taken on a unique adventure where they will, ?experience the city coming to life,? visiting several stunning locations that only locals are familiar with. These routes will also feature a mix of culture and sightseeing opportunities?all from the back of a motorbike in Saigon.

Fredrick Wilson, a representative of Back of the Bike Tours, says, "We hope that these new routes will blow our clients? minds, as we will be taking them to places that rarely have any tourist visits and are considered Saigon's hidden gems. You will zip around the city on the back of our motorbikes, driven by our English speaking guides, who will be by your side at all times as you explore and experience what Ho Chi Minh City really is like."

As described by the company, the Heartbeat of Ho Chi Minh tour focuses on the cultural and historical aspects of the city, taking travelers around locations that hold significant importance to local residents. Some of the stops include the Central Post Office, the Thien Hau Temple and a Local Hidden Wet Market. Travelers can choose to embark on this journey anytime from 8:30 am up to 12:00 pm, and they will have several opportunities to taste local foods and beverages. The company states that sipping Vietnamese coffee, accompanied with a variety of tropical fruits, is all part of the experience.

In contrast, the Saigon Night Rider tour brings travelers to experience the night culture of Ho Chi Minh City in what is considered one of the best sightseeing tours in Saigon. This tour begins runs from 7-10 pm, and attendees will explore and experience a night's worth of fun in the shoes of a Saigon resident, journeying across tight alleys, busy markets, hidden experiences and popular destinations commonly visited by locals and tourists alike. This cultural tour includes stops like Turtle Lake, Thu Thiem City Skyline and Le Van Tam Park in the City Center. Food and drinks will also be available throughout the trip.

Both tours offer the convenience of being picked up and dropped off by the company's guides, as they guarantee the safety and well-being of their clients no matter the circumstances. Both their Heartbeat of Ho Chi Minh and their Saigon Night Rider tours cost $42, which includes the cost of the food provided and insurance against emergencies. Each tour takes three and a half and three hours to complete, and they can accommodate up to 12 happy guests.

Several customer reviews describe the Back of the Bike tours as an exciting, one of a kind experience, and they are considered one of Vietnam's best tourist companies. Through their website, they showcase a glowing review written by Amanda A., who says, "We did two tours in Saigon: the half-day city tour and the evening food tour. These were the best tours I have ever taken. The food tour was an amazing experience, riding through the streets of Saigon at night, visiting different restaurants and street vendors. What makes these tours so special is the delightful guides/riders who shared their knowledge and happily chatted about their lives and enquired about ours. I would do this again in a heartbeat."
