

NASI Recommends The Fujitsu Lifebook U939 X

February 24, 2020

February 24, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Eagan, MN based North American Systems International is proud to bring the Fujitsu Lifebook U939X to the attention of productivity-conscious laptop users who want a device that emphasizes style and versatility as much as it does workflow. Available in striking black and red colour variations, the new ultra-mobile Lifebook U939X is an incredibly lightweight 360-degree foldable device boasts a full suite of performance and connectivity capabilities.

“When the time comes, as it often does during the summer break from school, parents, children, and educators begin thinking about next year,” says North American Systems International. “That means they start looking at new tablets, iPad options, and if they are looking for something more, then perhaps the super usable, extremely mobile and ultra-thin lightweight Lifebook U939X,” which is a beautiful, convertible laptop.

The company continues, “Historically, students and educational staff and facilitators have been separated by their device of choice. Of course, educators put a premium on features such as security, capability and durability. Students, on the other hand, wanted their devices to be fast, look good and be portable. What if you could have the best of both worlds?” They assert that the Lifebook U939X is the answer to all of these requirements, a highly fashionable digital companion that delivers in every practical scenario a user may have to contend with in an educational environment.

Furthermore, the device can be prepped to function in a variety of positions. Many students will no doubt be familiar with the standard layout of a tablet device, but this can be an uncomfortable way to use it in a classroom, especially if it has to rest on a desk as they work. Holding the tablet up for several hours is just not a feasible option. Fortunately, the Lifebook U939X’s users can tent the device in order to prop it up to a more ergonomic position or default to its standard function as a laptop. Conversely, it can easily be folded back into its tablet form when needed.

The laptop conveniently comes pre-installed with Windows 10 Pro, Fujitsu’s recommended operating system

(OS). Given that Microsoft has announced that Windows 10 will be the last numbered OS they will release, opting instead to continually support Windows 10 with new updates and features over time, Lifebook U939X users will never have to worry about having to upgrade their OS in the future. Additionally, they may set their devices to update automatically so that they will always have the most recent software and security features released by Microsoft. Windows 10 Pro, notably, offers a variety of advantages and base features over certain other versions of the OS as well, giving power users and tech aficionados more control over their convertible laptop and its functions.
