February 11, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

La Bella Vita Medi Spa, based in Rocklin, California, has announced that they now offer the Profound® Microneedle Treatment that can help to tighten the skin, making it effective for wrinkles and sagging areas of the face, including the upper lip, jaw, and more. This particular treatment makes use of controlled injury as a way to stimulate cell growth. The microneedles are used to deliver fractionated thermal injuries in the deep reticular dermis, where the highest concentration of collagen is located. The thermal injury stimulates wound healing, dermal remodeling and the formation of new collagen, elastin, and hyaluronic acid, thus providing visible skin improvement. More information about this can be found at <https://labellavitamedispa.com/profound-microneedle-treatment/>.

Dr. Raymond Turnure, Medical Director at La Bella Vita Medi Spa, says, "Profound provides a nonsurgical alternative to address aging skin. Using radiofrequency injectable energy, it provides facial wrinkle reduction and improves the appearance of cellulite. Profound is a minimally invasive bipolar RF system with patented Real-Time Temperature and Impedance Control that uses micro-needle electrodes, deployed into the reticular dermis or subcutaneous tissue, to deliver precise, fractionated injuries without thermal impact to the epidermis. Profound is a customizable and minimally invasive treatment suitable for women and men who wish to target the key signs of aging and cellulite on the body. The ideal patient is someone who suffers from loss of vital skin elements because of genetics, maturation, and other environmental factors resulting in overall volume reduction, wrinkles, and decreased elasticity.?

There are three major reasons the skin loses its elasticity as people age, resulting in facial wrinkles and increased appearance of cellulite. First, collagen levels decline every year. Second, the production of elastin stops. And third, there is a reduction in hyaluronic acid levels. The Profound® device can stimulate the production of new elastin, collagen, and hyaluronic acid. More information about the Profound® system can be found at <https://candelamedical.com/int/provider/product/profound>.

The Profound® system fills in the gap between invasive surgery and dermal injectables. It has been clinically proven to provide three skin fundamentals. It increases elastin by up to five times, collagen by up to two times, and hyaluronic acid. Also, only one non-surgical treatment is needed to achieve lasting results. It has also been observed that there is a 100 percent response rate for facial wrinkles and a 94 percent response rate in the improvement of the appearance of cellulite. It has been proven in eight comprehensive clinical studies and it is the first and only RF microneedling device with FDA clearance for use on the face and body.

Patients can expect a full recovery within five to seven days. Post-treatment, patients can expect the treated area to appear swollen and red. Pin-point ecchymosis from the needle insertions can be seen and bruising may be noticeable from the local anesthesia injection points. Patients are advised to use ice compress for the first 45 minutes immediately after treatment. A cold compress should then be applied for the next 24 hours for 20 minutes with 20 minutes off intervals. When sleeping, the patient is advised to have the head elevated for the first two to three nights after the treatment. The redness is expected to disappear after one to two days, while the edema and bruising will typically disappear within five to seven days.
