Popular Scottsdale Company, Custom Creative Remodeling, has a very good record when it comes to satisfying customers with their upscale kitchen, bathroom, and other home remodeling projects. The way they approach the remodeling jobs they do has earned them several awards. Part of that success can be directly attributed to the skill and experience of their design team.

Company owner, Praveen Puranam, had this to say about their experienced and often complemented design team, ?We at Custom Creative Remodeling realize that if we are going to associate the word ?upscale? with the type of work that we do, everything about our company has to be the best. That?s why we are so thankful to have the design team that we do. They have not only been the creative force behind several of the awards that we have one but they get praised over and over again by customers for helping them bring their kitchen and home remodeling ideas to life. One of the best things about our design time is they never push their own ideas on a customer; instead, they give suggestions on how to make a customer?s idea even better. That?s why our company motto is ?We design with you in mind?. With the help of our designers, anyone can dramatically change the look and feel of their kitchen and any other room in their home too.?

Among the awards that the company?s design team has been a big part of them winning are the 4 straight years of winning Houzz awards. Houzz is a website that helps those seeking remodeling work connect with companies in their area that have excellent reputations in their respective remodeling fields. They give out their annual awards to those they feel are the best of the remodeling companies that they refer people too. Custom Creative remodeling has also won several NARI (National Association of the Remodeling Industry) awards and was named the Regional Contractor of the Year in 2018.

Not only have they become one of the most sought-after home remodeling contractors in Phoenix and won several awards for their work, but they have also received many glowing reviews on the work they have performed. Here is an example of that. Customer Kay Klavon had this to say about the work Custom Creative Remodeling did for her, ?We have had three projects down by Custom Creative. Kitchen, entertainment area and most current our guest bathroom. The knowledge and work quality of their brick and title layers was exceptional. The lighting in our kitchen and entertainment center was designed in a way that highlighted both areas to look very elegant and there is a natural flow from one room to the next. Also having the owner so involve kept projects on schedule and within budget. He came up with ideas that enhanced the beauty of the areas that were being worked on. I highly recommend Custom Creative to anyone that wants to enhance the beauty of their home.? Puranam says reviews like this make those at the company very happy. That?s because two of the key ways that they measure the company?s performance is by the high percentage of positive reviews and how often a customer calls them to do a second job.

Puranam also acknowledged that they are a little bit different from many remodeling companies in the area in some respects. He says they will not just take on any home remodeling project that is presented to them. Since they only use the very best electricians, carpenters, cabinet makers, tile layers, and other craftsmen, they command top dollar for the remodeling projects that they agree to take on. Puranam stated that most of the remodeling jobs that the company does are typically priced in the $30,000 or above range.

The owner says that although many customers come to them because of the reputation they have with their kitchen and bath remodels Scottsdale, there is no part of a home interior that they can?t dramatically improve the looks of. That list includes master bedrooms, guest bedrooms, living rooms, and formal dining areas. He says they have even done some amazing things with stairwells and wine cellars.
