February 18, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Palisades Mazda, a car dealer based in Nyack, New York, has announced their Mazda3 lease deal for the month of February. For February 2020, customers can get to drive a brand new 2020 Mazda3 sedan, where the monthly payments would be $159 for a duration of 36 months, with $3,407 due at signing. All manufacturer rebates will be applied and the customer is provided with an option to purchase the car for $11,893. A $750 Mazda Lease Loyalty Incentive may also be available if qualified. And for those who need to end their Mazda3 lease early, they may be able to take advantage of Mazda's lease pull-ahead program.

Frank Benedict, General Manager at Palisades Mazda, says, "If you're looking for better handling and more driving exhilaration, then look no further than the new 2020 Mazda3. This February 2020, you can lease it for just $159 per month. We've made it much easier for you to experience driving this stylish sedan, which has the highest possible safety rating provided by the independent organization IIHS when equipped with the available Adaptive Front-lighting System. Furthermore, the Mazda3 cabin was designed with the driver in mind - each step of the way. The Mazda3's sport seats are your perfect fit. They are contoured to mold perfectly to the body, giving you and your passengers a more comfortable and connected ride, no matter how long the commute."

The 2020 Mazda3 is not only equipped with the best safety system in the form of the Adaptive Front-lighting System, it also provides the excellence in performance and handling that is expected from cars in the Mazda3 family. It has been provided with a precisely tuned 4-wheel independent suspension system and with the customer's choice of manual or automatic transmissions that are powered by 2.0-liter or 2.5-liter SKYACTIV®-G gasoline engines, with the 2.5-liter providing 184 horsepower and 185 lb-ft of torque.

The new 2020 Mazda3 sedan fuel consumption rating is 26.0 mpg for city driving and 35.0 mpg for highway driving. Its highlighted features include its navigation system, distance pacing cruise control, lane departure, emergency communication system, wireless phone connectivity, exterior parking camera at the rear, auto high-beam headlights, and rain sensing wipers. An included option is the Mazda Navigation System.

The new 2020 Mazda3 sedan has several convenience features. These include air conditioning, 1-touch up, 1-touch down, driver door bin, Mazda Radar Cruise Control, Mazda Connect emergency communication system, driver vanity mirror, illuminated entry, and front beverage holders, passenger door bin, power windows, passenger vanity mirror, push button star only proximity keyless entry, rear door bins, rear beverage holders, speed control, remote keyless entry, tilt steering wheel, and telescoping steering wheel.

It also has a number of suspension/handling features. These include the front anti-roll bar, alloy wheels, front wheel independent suspension, 205/60HR16.0 front tires, power steering, 205/60HR16.0 rear tires, and speed-sensing steering. It also has several entertainment features. These include the AM/FM radio, 2 first row LCD monitors radio data system, 8 speakers, steering wheel mounted audio controls, and Bluetooth wireless phone connectivity.

With regards to seats and trim, the new 2020 Mazda3 sedan has a front center armrest, bucket front seats, bench rear seats, split folding rear seat, and a maximum seating capacity of five. It also has a number of lighting, visibility and instrumentation features. These include the auto high-beam headlights, delay-off headlights, compass, exterior parking camera at the rear, digital/analog display, Smart Brake Support mitigation, front reading lights, fully automatic headlights, Lane Keep Assist System, rain sensing wipers, low tire pressure warning, outside temperature display, tachometer, rear window defroster, variably intermittent wipers, and trip computer.
