February 15, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

St. Louis, Missouri based Finnteriors Construction Services is reaching out to the community to announce that they can rely on the company for any construction projects of a commercial nature.

While Finnteriors Construction Services is widely known across the St. Louis area as a residential remodeling contractor, there is more to them than is apparent at first sight. The local company maintains a lesser-known branch of commercial services that cater specifically to business owners. Notably, these services deliver on the quality of craftsmanship that sets Finnteriors apart as a company, as they are carried out by the same team of professionals who have already earned a distinguished reputation as remodeling contractors in St. Louis.

Kevin Finn, owner of Finnteriors Construction Services, states, "Many of our clients are surprised and happy to learn about this but, in addition to our residential services, we are a widely recognized local commercial construction contractor. We have worked on the properties of many St. Louis residents who return again and again to seek our assistance with their commercial projects, putting their trust in our skilled team."

The construction company offers a comprehensive assortment of commercial construction services. They assert that they seek to be a one-stop solution that business owners all across the area can rely on regardless of what they need, offering prompt estimates and following through with their projects sooner than any other contractor in St. Louis.

Commercial Flooring is one of the key services that Finnterior offers, as they note that a professionally installed commercial-quality floor is crucial in sending a positive message to customers, employees, vendors and investors. With the variety of flooring solutions that they offer, Finnterior states that the hardest decision their clients will have to make is which flooring solution to use?though they are also ready and willing to lend their professional opinion here should their clients request it.

Finn says, "Choosing a flooring solution is more important than just deciding which one would look the best, as certain flooring types are better in different environments than others. We do not expect you to be familiar with the advantages and disadvantages of one type or another, but we can work with you to find flooring that's right for your business at the best prices. We'll go over the available options and prices, outlining which may be the best for you. We can make sure that you pick the most suitable option without a second thought."

The painting of interiors and exteriors is also among the other commercial services that Finnteriors offers. They have made a remarkable effort in adapting this service according to their clients' convenience, as they state that they recognize the importance of maintaining a sense of continuity in each client's business. The company can schedule the painting process at different times of the day depending on a client's schedule, and they add that it is not necessary to close the establishment during the process. Finn says, "We will be considerate of your employees as well as your customers and complete the painting in a timely manner. Once we finish painting, we will make sure that all debris is removed and that everything is moved back to its original location."

Fire, Water and Mold Damage restoration is also included in Finnterior's services. They reassure their clients that they can handle the professional restoration of an establishment following a range of emergencies. The company further states that there is no discernable difference between one restored property and another?they have worked on enough of these projects to the point where they are confident in saying that they can completely restore any property (within reason) to its pre-damaged state.

Finnteriors Construction Services reassures their commercial clients that they will make sure the project runs smoothly, professionally handling every step of the project. This includes planning, procurement, installation, logistics and maintenance. "We'll go above and beyond to deliver an outstandingly impressive result that demonstrates why we are known for our remodeling services," says Finn.

The company's website includes more information on the services offered by Finnteriors Construction Services, including a thorough description of what each entails. Interested parties may reach out to Kevin Finn to request an estimate for any of these services or follow up on any other inquiries.
