Glen Burnie, MD - Marriott & Sons Roofing, a roofing contractor headquartered in Glen Burnie, MD is announcing that they will be offering asphalt roofing services in Anne Arundel County and surrounding Maryland area. The roofing company has been providing asphalt roofing services since inception, but recently has been looking to expand the service to more areas.

Marriott & Sons Roofing takes pride in revealing that their Glen Burnie based roof installers receive thorough training and screening before beginning asphalt roofing installations for the company. This allows the roofing team to install the asphalt roof in a quick and safe manner. Marriott & Sons Roofing looks to educate Maryland homeowners whenever possible of the pitfalls when installing roofs. This ranges from faulty installations to the serious injury of roofers. As a leader in roofing safety, Marriott & Sons Roofing employs a safety manager that ensures a smooth customer experience without any hiccups. When interviewed, this roofing safety manager stated, "When working at heights it is critical that a roofer know what they are doing. This person needs to have experience working at these heights in order to avoid serious injury. If you hire an inexperienced roofer you're putting yourself and the professional in danger. Our installers have been vetted and trained by myself personally to ensure that your asphalt roof will be installed safely."
