February 25, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Video One Productions, a Chicago, Illinois based video production company, is reaching out to the wider community to share information about drone videography and its many potential uses. The company produces, edits and markets a wide variety of business videos for corporations, government agencies, the arts, non-profits and individuals.

Irwin Meyers, President of Video One Productions, says, "The next greatest thing in video is here, and it's called a drone. Unlike earlier versions, modern drones are fully decked out. Our drones, for instance, are equipped with a 4K camera and can take stunning shots of both the inside and outside of your business or real estate properties, shoot dramatic footage of any and all events and dazzle the people watching your video! Drone videography is the evolution of video productions as we head into the future."

According to Video One Productions, drones can be used for a variety of purposes, including real estate promotion, special events like concerts, corporate events and other gatherings and more. Using drones, those in need of eye-catching videos for their business, brand or event can obtain 360-degree shots, shots from above, sweeping shots and other types of footage.

Meyers says, "There is absolutely no need to settle for the same old pans, tilts and zooms in your video production, not when we can help you stand out and above all your competitors. Our drone technology will allow you to set your product or service apart from the pack by having a truly unique and exciting video. If you're interested in learning more, feel free to contact us."

Video One Productions provides a number of services in addition to drone videography. Their services include production services such as script writing, HD video production, location light and sound, jib, dolly, teleprompter and other enhancements for a professional video. They also offer multimedia services such as video editing, motion graphics, graphic design, closed captioning, disc authoring, and DVD and CD disc duplication and replication. Additionally, many clients will be interested in their video marketing services such as video distribution, video SEO optimization, video performance analysis, social media coordination and more. Meyers says, "We are an end-to-end video production company. If you are working with us, you can rest assured that we have every aspect of your video production needs covered."

Going by the reviews the company has received, Video One Production provides stellar services. On the Google platform, the company maintains a perfect 5/5 Star rating. In his review, Robert Turnaukas says, "Let me start by saying they were outstanding! Video One recently created a marketing video for my company. They were great to work with from start to finish. They are a very talented and professional group! The entire production crew, including the Managing Director, was very helpful, creative and patient in suggesting ideas on how to create and produce the perfect marketing piece. My company was very happy with them and would use them again in the future! I would highly recommend them for their work. Very professional!?"

On Yelp, Video One Productions has a near perfect 4.5/5 Star rating. Perry M. says in his review, "I had Video One create a point of sale video for my company. I dealt with Irwin, who was very helpful and creative when offering ideas to present the products in a way that I did not think of. The process was good, and the product was amazing. I was shocked as to the professional feel and look of the end product, given the price. I thought I would have spent tens of thousands for the kind of video product that I received. Very happy with them and would use them again in the future!?"
