"Do you want to keep your hands free and your valuable items close and safe while you're out shopping, traveling or riding your motorcycle?" asks Bayfield Bags. "Here's a waist bag for women bag that has the best of all worlds! It's a beautiful, black, lamb's leather purse, with four decorative studded zippered compartments, embedded with contrasting silver-tone studs. This is not your standard nylon waist pack or organizer purse! The bag is meant to give off a rugged vibe that represents the owner's no-nonsense yet carefree attitude. The black base color keeps the bag from being too gaudy but the studs demand a second, respectful look once noticed. Bayfield Bags loves customers who are fiercely independent and willing to let the right people know about it and their bags help give an aesthetic voice to an owner's strong personality.

However, the biggest draw about these bags may be how much they prioritize function in addition to form. According to Bayfield Bags, their customers report loving the bag due to its four generously sized pockets that can hold most smartphones, keys, makeup, credit cards, cash, and an assortment of other items that they consider vital when going out. This enhanced utility is due to the fact that Bayfield Bags designed the product with the intent to let it replace purses, giving women the option to keep their valuables close on hand in a stylish carrier without having to physically hold on to it. Many gun owners will also be pleased to find that these Amazon fanny packs can accommodate small-sized pistols, so personal safety can always be a part of their wardrobe if they wish. Its size was also carefully adjusted to offer a balance between carrying capacity and weight, so they will not be too cumbersome to tote around.

As Bayfield Bags explains, "This leather waist bag for women will look designer chic, adding another degree of style to your leathers when you go on motorcycle trips and excursions for women or men. Our customers also love that this clip pouch hip bag can be worn across their body or hooked to their belt loops by an adjustable strap that extends up to 28" to secure all your valuables while you travel as a sojourner?or even when you use it as a dog walker fanny pack!?" The company further observes, "Many nurses will find a use for this as a waist bag. It is meant to give you full use of your hands at all times, unobtrusively waiting for the moment you need it." The company also suggests that customers take their new hands-free bag the next time they go hiking, attend festivals and so on.

The company's Amazon reviews reflect their customers' enthusiasm. For instance, one 5-Star review shares that, "I have been using this for a while now. I purchased it to attach it to my ergonomic baby carrying pouch when I have my daughter on me. I wasn't able to have a purse and her at the same time, and carrying a "baby bag" for a quick errand was unnecessary because this pouch is amazing. It holds a lot and is sturdy and of great quality. Pockets are nice and deep. I have used it around my waist and, unfortunately, the strap was large for my waist. Even when I adjusted it to the smallest setting, it would fall down so I just tied the ends, and it fits perfectly now. Love, love, love it! Thank you."

Bayfield Bags' hip bags for women can be found online at a variety of retailers. More information can be found on each of these listings, and Bob Allen of Bayfield Bags is available should customers wish to inquire further.
