Hippocratic Solutions Explains How Podiatrists Can Benefit from Their Billing Services

February 22, 2020

February 22, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Hippocratic Solutions, a business based in Fairfield, New Jersey, has explained how podiatrists can benefit from their billing services. They point out that podiatrists may be able to accomplish a number of things if they let Hippocratic Solutions handle their medical billing. These include a substantial reduction in their claim rejection rates; reduction of payroll costs; quicker insurance/patient payments; ability to custom fit services to meet their goals; and opportunities for new income streams.

Peter Koukounas, President of Hippocratic Solutions, explains, "Our time-saving podiatry billing software keeps your costs down, frees up your time, and allows you to grow your practice. While other medical office workers are juggling insurance claim forms, patient traffic, phone lines, appointment scheduling, and more, you can take a deep breath and smile: your administrative and podiatry billing duties are in good hands."

He adds, "You can enjoy your profession, sit back, and watch your cash flow. The tiresome task of manually processing paperwork has been efficiently replaced with a state-of-the-art podiatry billing service by Hippocratic Solutions.?

Podiatry billing tasks can occupy a large amount of the workday of the medical office. This is because there are many administrative tasks, from verifying the eligibility benefits to submitting insurance claims and monitoring payments. Thus, doctors of podiatry medicine (DPMs) are now depending on the podiatry billing services of Hippocratic Solutions to ensure timely and accurate podiatry billing. DPMs rely on the experience of the company in providing medical billing services with the help of podiatry billing software. Moreover, the billing professionals at Hippocratic Solutions are skilled and knowledgeable in all aspects of insurance processing and the podiatric procedures. Peter Koukounas explains that outsourcing podiatry billing will result in more revenue for the medical office. Doing the billing tasks themselves will mean having to maintain podiatry billing software, allocating some office space for the billing personnel, and hiring billing employees. This will require a lot of time and expenses. By outsourcing podiatry billing, podiatrists would be able to save on time and money and focus on what they do best, enhance their podiatry services.

Furthermore, while it may not seem obvious at the start, outsourcing podiatry billing can provide PDMs with more control. With the billing tasks being turned over to a team of experienced professionals, podiatrists would be able to have better control over the processes because the team will be collaborating with the podiatrist to come up with tailor-fitted solutions that may be able to boost operational efficiency and boost income.

Outsourcing podiatry billing may also provide for better security. Hippocratic Solutions will make use of a third-party security system that is completely secure, encrypted and compliant with HIPAA requirements for the prevention of privacy intrusions and hacking. The result is that personal billing data are safer and more secure.

Outsourcing podiatry billing may also improve the medical office's adaptability. It should be noted that the rules and regulations governing medical billing often change and the in-house staff may have a hard time keeping up. On the other hand, the experienced team from Hippocratic Solutions are always up-to-date on the billing rules and regulations and will always make sure that the medical office is not violating those rules and regulations.

Outsourcing the billing processes will also allow the DPMs to have more time to focus on their patients. They would be able to concentrate on the treatment of their patients, having peace of mind that the billing tasks are being handled professionally. Thus, an indirect result of outsourcing billing is a better quality of life for patients.

Outsourced podiatry billing also implies lower labor costs for the medical office. This is because there is no need to recruit, interview and hire billing employees. And monthly costs, resulting from the salaries of the billing employees and other related expenses such as training costs, are greatly reduced.
