The Plastic Surgeon Miami, a cosmetic surgery clinic in Miramar, Florida, has announced that they offer the services of top eyelid surgery experts in Miami and neighboring areas. Their eyelid experts are committed to the use of practices and procedures that provide the best improvement in eyelid looks. They have developed a reputation of offering error-free cosmetic and plastic surgery procedures for their patients around Miami. With the cosmetic surgery clinic having acquired many years of experience, they have established the kind of equipment and procedures that offer the best results.

Dr. Ramiro Morales, surgeon at The Plastic Surgeon Miami, says, "The eyelid surgery we provide is meant to correct both upper and lower eyelid problems. These usually tend to droop; giving patients a weary boredom look and somewhat impairs vision. Our facility handles eyelid cases both for those seeking to improve facial appearances and those having eyelid functional issues. Our concerns are the weary sagging skin of the eye; excess fat deposits causing eyelids to appear puffy, skin wrinkles usually of the lower eyelid and the eye bags."

At The Plastic Surgeon Miami, the surgeons such as Dr. Ramiro Morales, are able to correct the excess skin on both eyelids and the eyelid fatty deposits. Dr. Morales himself has specialized in this kind of eyelid surgery, resulting in the patient having a beautiful rejuvenated appearance and improved natural facial presentation. Sometimes they will include eyelift whenever it is required. They will advise patients on the best long term facial surgery procedures for them, including their anatomy's response to certain procedures.

In their eyelid surgery service, patient assessment is vital to find out if a patient is really eligible for the procedure. This is to be performed in conjunction with other relevant medical evaluations. They suggest that patients visit their facility frequently and be open to the doctor and reveal all essential information, such as whether they smoke or are currently undergoing some kind of medication.

The eyelid surgery procedure will take around one to less than 4 hours under anesthesia. It will involve some incisions and lifting the skin to separate it from the muscles underneath. Patient recovery will usually take several weeks. Aside from eyelid surgery, The Plastic Surgeon Miami also offers other kinds of cosmetic surgery in Miami. These include the face lift, breast augmentation, breast reduction, breast lift, abdominoplasty, liposuction, and filler and Botox.

The facelift procedure is primarily meant to minimize the revealing signs of aging and facial wrinkles. The procedure will also get rid of sagging around the neck. And just like the other procedures, the doctor will perform a comprehensive assessment of the patient, particularly with regards to the patient's skin, the underlying bone structure, and medical history. He will then discuss with the patient and explain if the latter's goals are realistic, and suggest the best procedure. It is important for patients to reveal important facts at this stage, such as if they are taking certain drugs or medications or whether they smoke.

The Plastic Surgeon Miami also offers breast augmentation services. This procedure will provide women with larger and more proportional breasts. The usual procedure to achieve breast augmentation is through implants. Either saline or silicone breast implants may be used. The type of implant to be used will depend on several factors, which means initial consultation is vital. Through this consultation, they will be able to ensure that the type of implant used will be the most suitable for the patient's body type and age.

They can also provide the breast lift procedure. This often entails tightening of the areola and neighboring tissues within the breast and getting rid of excess skin. The outcome is a raised and firm breast with a well rounded shape and more youthful look.
