February 25, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Bed Bug Removal Specialists specialize in bed bug treatments and solutions; however they also offer a wide variety of other pest control services to combat the local pests throughout Hamilton County, Indiana. While bed bugs have been increasing in numbers throughout Fishers, IN and across the state, other pests have not retreated either.

"We can help with a wide variety of bugs in the area, including ants, roaches, fleas, mice, mosquitoes, silverfish, spiders, stink bugs and so much more. Even for properties that don't experience pests regularly, having a regular pest inspection can help you lower those instances substantially," the business owner said.

The owner also pointed out that certain businesses are at a higher risk of experiencing pest issues. For instance, food prep and food serving establishments are at greater risk of flies, rodents and roaches invading their space.

"We have had customers who called, very upset about a pest issue and confused because they're home was immaculately clean. Unfortunately, the pests don't care if your home is clean or dirty. The belief that bugs and rodents only invade dirty properties is a very common misconception,? the owner said.

Cockroaches can thrive and adapt to any environment. Bed bugs simply need a blood meal (but can live months without) to take up shelter in one?s property and rodents will search out water, food and shelter, regardless of how sanitary their surroundings. No property is safe from pest problems.

?If you need a reliable and local exterminator to help you with bed bugs, rodents or another pest problem, we encourage you to contact our expert team to learn how we can help,? the owner adds.

Residents can contact the company by visiting them online at <https://bedbugremovalindianapolis.com/> or they can contact the business by phone. The company states that they offer free estimates for certain pest problems and can provide inspections upon request, unless bed bug service is needed; then an inspection will be required.
