SYDNEY, Australia ? Colour Elegance Painters and Decorators, a contractor for painting and related trades for nearly 30 years, announced today that it was extending a new ?Try before You Buy? offer for a limited time. With ?Try before You Buy,? Colour Elegance will paint one room to demonstrate their mastery of the painting process and the quality of their workmanship. If the customer is not satisfied, there is no obligation to continue to pay or continue with the project.

?The mark of a professional painter worth his salt is his cutting-in, gloss finish, roller joins, and leaving your house and furnishings clean at the end,? said Paul Magro, painter from Colour Elegance. ?With this offer, we want to show you how we do things. There's no better way to see all this for yourself than to have us paint a room.?

Colour Elegance is known as one of Sydney's most affordable painters. The company specializes in painting houses: interiors, exteriors and roofs. Colour Elegance is also renowned for service quality. When a customer books a quote with Colour Elegance, one of the firm?s lead painters will visit the premises in person, taking a good look at what the project needs and listening to exactly what the customer wants.
