TantrumMobileSprayTans.com is the leading spray tan company in South Florida and now offers their spray tan services to the residents of Palm Beach, FL.

Melinda Dixon, owner of TantrumMobileSprayTans.com, says, "Our technicians have been trained formally and are considered to be experts in the art of applying a perfect sunless tan. Each of our professional technicians has been certified and has the skills required to apply a beautiful, natural and even tan to our customers. Clients don't have to test out different salons and expose themselves to potentially damaging tanning beds. They also no longer have to deal with the unpredictability of tanning at the beach. They can just call us and we will come to them and give them the perfect tan."

Research has uncovered the ugly truth about tanning beds stating that prolonged tanning bed use has been known to cause premature aging and skin cancer, immune system suppression and more. Tantrums' proprietary solutions are a safe, natural alternative without harmful side effects.

Tantrumspraytans.com website goes on to say that they offer a relaxing experience in their clients home or office and their solutions don't leave clients with sticky or smelly skin, no orange color, and no tan lines. They offer several lines of solutions from golden tones to cocoa tones so they can match their clients desired color based on their particular skin type.

"We take pride in being the leaders of the mobile spray tan industry in Palm Beach and the surrounding cities. Most of our clientele are regulars that want to keep an even, realistic looking tan during the season. Others we see for special occasions like performances, weddings, important office parties, high society social events etc." Says Dixon, TantrumMobileSprayTans.com owner.

Most health conscious people seem to be aware of the harmful side effects the sun and tanning beds cause, the demand for alternatives has been met by companies like Tantrum that offer a safe and natural alternative. Their solutions are all natural, their technicians help each client feel at ease and they offer a pampered experience at your home.

"We strive for natural, even results and offer our clientele excellent customer service. It's intimidating to allow a someone in your home to spray tan you. We pride ourselves on setting the client as ease immediately. We arrive on time, business card in hand, company uniforms are worn and we leave the client with many helpful tips to extend the life of their professional spray tan. This, I believe, is why we have so many repeat customers" says Melinda, the owner.

Some of their competitors offer spray tan booths that mist each individual but they don't analyze your skin type and use multi solutions for each individual client. Tantrum technicians use commercial grade spray tan guns and offer many lines of solution so they can move around the body ensuing an even and natural looking tan. Using a live person to spray tan the individual ensures professional level results.

"Our results are effective because our technicians have been trained and certified. Most spray tan companies do not properly train their staff. This is why so many of our clients refer their friends and family to us and keep coming back as often as they do," Miss Dixon says.
