New York, NY - The experienced New York City personal injury lawyers at Banville Law have announced the opening of their new law office.

"Our quickly growing legal team has been providing services for New York City residents for many years and we will now be able to better serve the local community from this new location. This will also allow us to become further involved in New York City organizations and events," shared Mr. Laurence Banville, the managing attorney at Banville Law.

The New York personal injury law firm has a long history of successful outcomes, providing legal services for clients who were injured because of car accidents, pedestrian accidents, truck accidents, bus accidents, construction accidents, work accidents, slip and fall accidents, and motorcycle accidents.

"Our attorneys fight aggressively for justice and for compensation that our clients need. We've seen the devastating impact that a serious injury can have on a victim and often, those victims are left to fend for themselves during a time where they can't work and participate in everyday activities. Our goal is to ensure that our clients recover the compensation they need to pay for medical bills and lost wages,? Banville shared.

The law firm doesn't just work on accident cases, their experienced attorneys also provide legal services to those hurt by sexual assault, defective devices, and medical malpractice. The legal team offers free legal consultations and works on a contingency fee so that clients don't have to worry about paying for legal fees when they can't even afford medical care.

From their new Long Island location, Banville Law serves Lincoln Square, Manhattan, the Upper West Side, Hell?s Kitchen, the Upper East Side, Lennox Hill, Yorkville, East Harlem, Harlem, Midtown Manhattan, and the surrounding areas.

The office can be found at Banville Law 165 West End Ave #1h, New York, NY 10023, USA. Accident victims can contact the legal team by calling (917) 633-4808.
