February 28, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

A local company is servicing Covina, CA residents with superior pest control & extermination solutions that treat intrusive pests. Pest Busters Pest Management stated that in recent months they have received an increase in calls regarding rodents and cockroaches. "These are two very common pests that are becoming harder to deal with for property owners. That's when it's nice to know you have a local exterminator to call on for help," the business owner said.

Rodents are notoriously known for their ability to chew through just about anything, carrying and transmitting disease to humans, and leaving behind harmful bacteria via excrement. "Rats and mice are small so it's easier for them to hide out of sight for longer periods of time. You will likely notice little black pellets, their feces, before actually seeing a rat or mouse," the manager said.

Cockroaches are no cleaner than rodents. They infest quickly, can carry over 30 diseases and transmit them to people. This is not a bug to ignore because it will not go away on its own. The company owner added, "No bug problem will completely go away on its own. While you may not see many bugs, it doesn't mean they aren't hiding in your property. An inspection is the best way to start when it comes to battling intrusive pests. You can count on our experts for the best pest control in Covina, CA."

Rodents squeeze through such small spaces that property owners will need to seal up any openings as well as check any vent screens on the property. This will help prevent other small insects and bugs from entering the home or business as well and it's a simple task that is often overlooked.

"Our local exterminators are able to help you control, remove and prevent rodent and cockroach problems, in addition to other Covina pests. We don't provide unnecessary treatments and won't pressure you to take a service you don't even need," the business owner stated.
