February 29, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Concord, Calif.- Alpine Awards, a promotional gifts store in Concord, CA, is highlighting their trophy creation process for their customers this month. The premier awards store is proud to service their growing community and show them how they serve all their awards needs.

Alpine Awards has been in the awards industry since 1972, an impressive nearly 60 years of superior service. Since their beginnings, they have continuously improved their award designs and manufacturing processes. Their trophies are no exception.

For the corporate gifts store in Concord, CA, it's very important to not only update their craftsmanship but also tell their customers about how they stay up to date on all the new innovations possible.

"Top quality awards are our trademark," states Alpine Awards. "We know that only the best will do for the people you wish to recognize."

For trophies, Alpine Awards starts by working with each client that comes in to achieve the best design. Many clients come in with a specific trophy in mind, but others only know what they want the trophy to say. Either way, Alpine Awards' dedicated team will make sure the design is perfect before moving forward.

After the trophy is designed, they will create a mold specific to that trophy. The trophy is then manufactured with the highest quality materials. The trophy is then coated or painted according to the customer.

According to Alpine Awards, the last step is to engrave the trophy with text, such as a team or player name. They say that most awards are sports awards, but they can do anything a customer can think of.

Alpine Awards detailed their current trophy creation process this month but are excited for future innovations in the process.
