Adfilic, which is based in Richmond, BC, Canada, had released affordable Bluetooth speakers on Amazon some time ago. Now, they are proud to announce that they have added a selection of new colors to the speakers, so people can customize them based on their preferences. Furthermore, they have changed the packaging to make them look nicer and more appealing.

James Chien from Adfilic says: "Our affordable Bluetooth speaker has been a hit on Amazon for some time now. The subtle changes we have now added in terms of the color and packaging design now also make it the perfect gift. It is now available in various colors and various shapes, so you can really find something that is perfect for you or as a gift for someone special."

The small Bluetooth speakers are ultra portable, making them the perfect travel companion. They aren't bulky and are smaller, while thicker, than the iPod 4th Gen. They offer a steady, wireless Bluetooth connection so that there is no worries about drop off with the connection. As such, it can play constant music without having to deal with the presence of wires.

While the designs and colors have changed, the sound quality did not. Adfilic prides itself on how good the quality is, particularly for such a small device. The subwoofer effect and bass booster enhance the quality even further. Unsurprisingly, the speakers have received numerous positive reviews. Therefore, those who are looking for one of the best affordable Bluetooth speakers need not look elsewhere.

"This little guy puts out some serious sound," says C. "I'm really amazed at the quality and volume of the sound for such a low price. On top of that, the speaker comes with both an aux cable and a micro usb charging cable."

The battery of the all-in-one multi-functional speaker with Bluetooth is fully rechargeable. What also sets it apart from other similar products is that it allows users to listen to FM stations, take calls and use the audio playback. The company is also fully committed to the quality of their product. As such, they offer a full money back guarantee to anyone who is not 100% satisfied with the look or quality of the speakers.
