The Net Lender (TNL), a well-known finance company based in California, has recently announced that it is now working with local residents in Decatur, Georgia to help them understand what the company does. For those needing to have access to an extra source of income in these challenging times, it can be very helpful. The Net Lender has recently opened a brand-new location at Decatur and local residents wishing to visit in person can find directions at <https://www.thenetlender.com/locations/auto-title-loans-decatur-ga-0507>. Even though it is possible to take care of much of the application itself online or over the phone, a visit to the company's premises will still be necessary as the customer's vehicle would still need to be examined in person by The Net Lender officer before final approval can be given and the process completed.

Some time ago, The Net Lender made the decision that it wanted to expand across the country in order to help many more Americans access a source of ready emergency cash. Unexpected bills and events can both produce a need for emergency cash and The Net Lender wanted to make sure that someone was there to help when it was needed.

Kyle Elba, a spokesperson for the company said, "The Net Lender wanted to take action when we became aware of just how much the middle class has shrunk over the last few years. We know that on average middle-class incomes have only increased by 0.3 percent per year during the last decade. What this means for all those concerned is that even though there has been an increase they have lost significant ground financially in reality. We felt that people should have access to the value of their vehicles without necessarily having to sell them. For this reason, the company has undertaken a nationwide expansion and Decatur is one of the latest to occur.?

The City of Decatur has a bright future ahead. Future job growth over the next ten years is predicted to be 44.7%, which is higher than the US projected future of higher than the US average of 33.5%. But some people need help today and finding out that they can receive short-term assistance by using the title of their car has been a real help to many Decatur residents.

Located in Decatur at <https://goo.gl/maps/ycUnwhWVKbqiC4tG7>, all a prospective customer would need in many cases to get assistance is a clear car title and a photo ID. Customers can even start the process online, or they may simply call the office in Decatur and speak with a financial assistance officer. If they are eligible for help, in some cases the whole process can be completed within one business day.

One Decatur area customer, Terry Stanley, said, "The Net Lender restored my faith in this type of business. They were very helpful, and I was given a lot of guidance as to what I could and could not do. The whole process was quick and easy, and I would definitely go there again if I needed to do so."

Mr. Elba stated that even though the unemployment rate in the Decatur area is less than the national rate, that people still have unexpected expenses and sometimes find themselves needing some financial assistance quickly. "Whether it's a health care issue or a child with a travel problem who needs money suddenly, these things crop up for people all the time. We are here to help if we can."

Local Decatur residents who would like to learn more about The Net Lender and the professional services it provides can find further information on the company's website or at <https://www.pressadvantage.com/organization/the-net-lender>. Potential customers can find contact details on the website which will enable them to get in touch via email, phone, or by using the online contact form. The Net Lender also maintains a social media presence on Facebook where the company frequently posts updates and communicates with interested visitors who have posted relevant questions.
