

Beneleaf Launches Temporary Metallic Tattoos Package

August 21, 2015

August 21, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Hawthorne, California based Beneleaf has launched a package containing popular tattoos from various social media sites. The new design package contains a number of Pinterest and Instagram trending temporary tattoos.

"They are non-toxic, and safe for adults and kids," says Alyssa Sullivan of Beneleaf. "We picked the most popular styles from social media to put together this winning design package."

The temporary metallic tattoos hold their design for at least five days. Beneleaf states that they are "great for summer beach time, and also for night party and other activities."

The package includes over 100 temporary tattoos, in an eight sheet pack, and includes styles made popular by celebrities, allowing wearers to recreate looks from magazines, style alerts, and social media images.

Despite being temporary in nature, the tattoos are designed to be long lasting and they are waterproof, so they will not wash off in the shower. Users can also wear them at the pool or beach, and enjoy regular activities with no worries of sweating the temporary tattoos away.

Thousands of possible combinations allow wearers to turn chains to rings, necklaces, armbands, earrings, and even makeup. The tattoos have a metallic design, so they shimmer and shine, and will stay put for days, even for wearers who are planning a week long beach vacation.

Since they are non-toxic, they are completely safe for children and adults alike. They contain no harsh or harmful chemicals that could lead to skin irritation, even for the youngest of wearers, and come in a plethora of colors and designs to suit a number of personal preferences.

Beneleaf offers a complete customer satisfaction refund, no questions asked. Customers have already begun purchasing the temporary tattoos, and the product currently has a five star rating on the Amazon marketplace, due to price, color and design combination, and the fact that they are completely safe for tattoo lovers of all ages.

One mother states, "My daughter loves these, and I love that they don't make her skin red or break her out when she wears them."

More about the designs chosen and the company that produces them can be found on the official website for Beneleaf.
