March 09, 2020 -
Rockwell Trading Founder Markus Heitkoetter has announced that they are holding a Coffee with Markus session live every Wednesday, 3:00 pm Central on Facebook and YouTube. This is a video diary where Markus shares this best trading practices and how he is living the life of a successful trader. These sessions are part of Markus? efforts to accomplish his mission of showing people how simple trading really is and that they may also be able to live the lifestyle that they have always dreamed of.

Markus Heitkoetter himself says, ?In one of the recent Coffee with Markus sessions, I showed you my daily routine. Specifically, I showed you how I monitor open positions; how I find new stocks and options to trade; when exactly to enter; when to exit; and how I use a profit target and stop loss.?

Markus Heitkoetter has been known for being able to teach any person to trade in just 60 minutes or less. He has already taught more than 360,000 traders worldwide and has appeared on CBS, NBC, ABC, FOX, and more. He is a trading expert who does not hold back in sharing his trading secrets because he has made it his mission to help many more people who may still be stuck in the corporate rat race.

He still remembers how 16 years ago, he was working 60-80 hours a week for IBM. While he had what is generally considered to be a great job that allowed him to have a lifestyle that appeared to be ?glamorous,? this forced him to be separated from his family, passions, friends, and hobbies for long periods of time. It was in 2002 that he finally decided to quit his job and the rat race and move to the United States from Munich, Germany. He had in his possession only $30,000 and a strong desire to trade stocks. The rest is history because he is now a multimillionaire, who is willing to share his investing strategies and knowledge to other people in various parts of the globe.

Those who want to learn how to trade, may want to subscribe to the Coffee with Markus sessions. To learn about the topics discussed in previous sessions, people can go to the Rockwell Trading website. Topics that have been previously discussed include:

Those who want to go into trading may also be interested in Markus Heitkoetter?s free stock trading Bootcamp. The Bootcamp is four hours long and it is designed for people who have little to no experience in stock trading, traders who are no longer satisfied with their inconsistent returns, and investors who are not contented with their retirement accounts. Even if the Bootcamp is free of charge, attendees learn how to find the best stock to trade, how to limit risk, when is the proper time to buy a stock, and when to take profits. People who are interested can check out the Rockwell Trading website to know when is the upcoming Bootcamp and reserve their seat. Aside from learning how to find the best stocks to trade, attendees will also learn the art of money management. By following Markus? three simple rules, attendees will be able to follow a trading plan where they will never be at risk of blowing out their account.

Those who are interested in learning more about the Coffee with Markus sessions, the bootcamp and about the stock trading strategy of Markus can check out the Rockwell Trading website or contact them on the phone or through email.
