Germany Law Firm PLLC is a respected legal practice that specializes in handling personal injury related cases. They have been successfully representing those in the Jackson, Mississippi area who have been personally injured through no fault of their own for several decades now. It's that type of experience that leads them to strongly suggest that a victim of a personal injury accident get a consultation and select legal representation in the matter right away.

Practice founder, Bob Germany, had this to say about retaining legal counsel right away after being injured by another's negligence, "If someone has been hurt through no fault of their own, we understand that it can be a very difficult time for them. Depending on the extent of those injuries, a person will most likely end up asking themselves how will I pay for these expensive medical bills, what happens if I miss time from work, and will my injuries haunt me well into the future. These are all legitimate questions that can be best be answered by an experienced personal injury attorney like myself. That's why it's so important to get a consultation as soon as possible after you have been a victim in a personal injury accident and then choose an attorney you are comfortable with to represent you in the matter. Experienced personal injury attorneys like myself can answer all of the above questions and more during a consultation and then get you started on the path to protecting your legal rights by making a personal injury claim."

According to Germany, the most important reason to consult with and then hire a reputable personal injury right away after being injured is to deal with the pressure that will inevitably come from an insurance company. Big insurance companies realize that it's in their best interest to settle a personal injury claim right away when their client is obviously at fault. He went on to say that these initial offers from insurance companies are often far less than what a victim of a personal injury accident is legally entitled too. The problem is, when someone is faced with mounting medical expenses and other expenditures, even a small amount of money being dangled in front of them can be tempting to take. German says a good personal injury lawyer will immediately take this pressure to settle from an insurance company head-on and protect their client's best interests.

This Mississippi personal injury attorney says that another reason to retain legal counsel right away in a personal injury matter is for accident investigation purposes. Germany says that in a vast majority of personal injury cases and accident investigation is an important part of the process. The longer time passes the better the chance that evidence will be misplaced, tarnished, and trampled upon beyond use and that will severely hurt the case that evidence is meant to support. He says that additional reasons for victims to hire an attorney right away include the quick establishment of a claim's fair value and it helps bring clarity to the legal process that a client is about to go through. Germany says that throughout the process, his firm will also take steps to give their clients the peace of mind that they have made a solid choice when it comes to their personal injury claim representation.

This law firm's founder also wanted to remind people that they specialize in many different types of personal injury cases. This includes motor vehicle accidents, premises liability, slip and fall accidents, dog bites, workplace injuries, and defective products. He says they are also willing to represent someone in a wrongful death suit that has lost a loved one due to negligence on another person or parties' part.

For those that would like to schedule a free personal injury consultation with this Jackson MS Law Firm Office, Germany says they can reach a representative of the firm 24-hours a day 7-days a week by calling 601-401-6884.
