March 12, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Carmel, Indiana based Walla Painting has received two glowing reviews on Angie?s List this week. The Westfield house painter currently boasts over 360 reviews on Angie?s List alone and has earned Angie?s List Super Service Award for the 10th year running. Walla Painting has served the communities in and around Westfield, Carmel, Noblesville, Fishers, Zionsville and Geist since 2008.

Many customers return to Walla Painting time and again to take on their next home painting or refresh project. For instance, one of the recent reviews states that, ?This is the third time I've used Walla, and I couldn't be happier with their work! I'm finishing our basement, and we didn't have the time to paint it ourselves so we hired Walla for the work. They were fast, paid a lot of attention to detail, did a great job and finished everything in a couple of days. We Would (and will) hire them again on my next painting job!?

Owner of Walla Painting Johnathan Walla says, "We want to thank each and everyone of our customers who have taken the time to leave their honest feedback. Our small team here strives to do their best for each customer, and we love to see how much our hard work is appreciated. As a small, local business, we know the value of helping our communities thrive while retaining the Midwestern friendliness and professional excellence that sets us apart."

Many people find that their own DIY projects cost more than just the time lost fixing up their home. With Walla Painting's Hire a Painter for a Day! Service, however they always have access to a professional they can trust to take care of the things they might miss. Having a painter for eight hours (or two painters for four hours) means that many of the smaller jobs can be completed properly. Getting professional quality work carried out by a trusted local company that values long term relationships makes it worth checking in with other customers to make sure they will be around for the long term. As such, new customers are welcome to look up the company's reviews for insight on the quality of their work.

For instance, the second review shared this week states that, "I hired Walla Painting to do touch up painting, including restoring our trim work and door frames through the house before selling. From the initial estimation to the crew doing the work it was an easy process that made it easy on my wife and I. Our crew leader, Debbie, was not only a great painter but very handy and fun to work with. We recommend using Walla for your painting needs!"

Westfield is a beautiful location, providing its residents with the opportunities and activities they need. Those moving to the area often want to put their own stamp on their new home, and a complete residential painting may be just the way to do that. Fortunately, Walla Painting has just posted an article highlighting the Top 5 Paint Color Trends for 2020 for those who are looking for inspiration. Fresh paint will also help protect both the exterior and interior of the home from wear and tear, and it can help change the whole tone of a home.

Walla concludes, "We offer complete residential painting services and excel in interior painting, including cabinet painting. We know that painting a home is the easiest way to help a home look new again, and the least expensive way to get a brand new look. Whether you have a bunch of little jobs that need attention or want your entire home repainted, we will make a schedule which fits with your timetable and stick to it. We take pride in finishing on time and within budget, ensuring that each of our customers is satisfied. That's how we have built our reputation.
