Company representative Ed says, "We offer a fair cash price for your home, paying all the closing costs plus any mortgage or other encumbrances on the property. There is no need to worry about costly repairs and fixing up anything, cleaning, closing fees for agents or protracted negotiations. We can even give you a free no-obligation cash offer as well as the freedom to close on the date of your choice."

Rockland Buyer is a local, full-service professional home buyer that strives to give every client the no-hassle experience they deserve regardless of their circumstances. They can do this as they have no need to wait for financing approvals. After a purchase is made, they will decide on any repairs, and they may decide to keep and rent out the property or sell it to another homeowner. With Rockland Buyer, there are no fees or commissions.

Ed continues, "We have seen a steady increase in demand for a quick sale service for those who don't want perfect strangers walking through their home, disrupting their schedules or the hassle of negotiating over every little thing they can possibly find at fault. Homeowners facing costly repairs or redecorating to enhance curb appeal really appreciate that we can provide a quick way to move forward with their future. We have also found that homeowners appreciate that we don't share or sell the information they give us. We consider our work best done when you understand all your options, so get in touch with us to find out if we buy houses in your area."

Rockland Buyer also purchases damaged and old homes, including those in or about to be in foreclosure, unwanted rental properties and vacant homes. Their coverage extends from Ringwood State Park east along the New York Stage line with New Jersey north along the Hudson River to Bear Mountain State Park. Those who want to learn more about the advantages of selling their home to a local professional home buyer like Rockland Buyer can download the company's free info guide directly from their website.

Anyone facing a possible foreclosure will also benefit from Rockland Buyer's free guide as it provides information on five ways to stop or avoid foreclosure in today's market. Being informed about options is the best way to protect credit rating during these types of proceedings. Their guide also includes steps that homeowners can take if a bank has already filed a Notice of Default. The company's aim is to help people in such situations minimize any long term damage.

Ed continues, "If you are in or think you may be in foreclosure circumstances, just let us know. We know that many people, through no fault of their own, face challenging times. Thousands of others have gone through it, and we aim to help those who need to know their options and how to minimize damage to their credit rating. Taking control of the situation by finding out your options is the best way to move forward. Our home buying process works the same for everyone, and we have made it as simple as we can. It is as quick as the homeowner wants it to be because we work in accordance with their timetable. We take pride in saying that we can solve almost any financial problem that your property is causing."

Rockland Buyer's home buying process consists of four very easy steps. First, homeowners tell them about their property. Next, if it meets their buying criteria, Rockland Buyer will contact them to set up a quick appointment. Following the appointment, they will present homeowners with a fair, written, no-obligation offer within 24 hours. If the homeowner agrees, they then close at a local reputable title company in as few as seven days—and on a day the homeowner has the privilege to pick. Sometimes, the company can have a check in the homeowner's hand the same day.

Ed concludes, "We don't care whether you think your home is ugly, dated or just inconvenient for your work. If your home meets our criteria, we will set up an appointment and get you a fair cash price for your home, with absolutely no hassle and no obligation. We all know that this can save months of having to show your home to buyers, and some homes are taking up to a year to sell nowadays. We are a real, local business, so please ask us anything if you have questions. The best thing you can do is educate yourself on your options."
