March 25, 2020 -
Sydney, Australia based Clean Group is pleased to inform local businesses that they are now able to offer high rise window cleaning as part of their commercial services. Clean Group has grown quickly since they were founded, delivering superior quality cleaning services with their highly trained staff. The company, which has been serving the greater Sydney area for over 20 years, specialises in all aspects of office and commercial cleaning, including exterior cleaning, industrial cleaning, carpet cleaning and more.

Suji Siv, speaking on behalf of Clean Group says, ?We have had many requests to clean office windows, so we are very excited to be offering high rise window cleaning to complement our exterior cleaning services for our commercial customers. The size of your office makes no difference on the quality of our work. Our mission is to help our clients maintain the clean and healthy environment they deserve in their place of business. We offer a great cleaning service at affordable rates and can provide permanent full-day staff to sites if required.?

Clean Group is one of the most trusted commercial cleaning companies in Australia. They provide dedicated teams who undertake their work in a manner that minimises any impact to any client?s daily operations. The company is often appreciated for their commitment to cleaning carpets, flooring and upholstery in order to protect every worker and visitor on the premises.

The KAKE ABC news website and Banking Reporter, an online news source for the financial industry, recently reported on the fact that Clean Group launched their strata cleaning services. This ensures that clients with large buildings and properties can have Clean Group carry out the cleaning top to bottom, including floors, windows, carpets, lifts, staircases and more. Following this announcement, the company experienced an increase in demand for their high rise window cleaners. As a result, Clean Group has taken the commercial decision to offer exterior window cleaning services to their clientele.

Suji Siv continues, ?We are the Number 1 choice for thousands of businesses in and around the greater Sydney area. Our distinctive cleaning techniques include catering to the wishes of our customers. We can utilise traditional cleaning methods, using hand tools like scrubbers and squeegees along with scrapers if they prefer. Many clients have noted that our technicians abseil across high rises to carry out their work. I must stress that our cleaners have the best tools along with the expertise to ensure that this is done in a 100% safe and effective manner. We also use water fed systems to deliver spot-free cleaning with a streak-free finish to windows all over Sydney. We are always happy to discuss any preference you have as part of our services, whether you are new to us or have been using Clean Group for years.?

Clean windows make commercial premises look more beautiful, but having a clean exterior means that more light can get in as well. Workers and visitors further benefit from having professional window cleaning done on a regular basis as it helps remove any harmful bacteria, dust and other allergens that can impact their health.

Those looking to minimise their impact on the environment will be delighted to learn that Clean Group avoids using any chemical-rich or ammonia-based detergents (or other harmful solutions) when cleaning windows. Instead, they use pure, ionised water to clean dust dirt and stains without causing any damage. Their cleaning vans provide their teams with all the equipment, supplies and tools they will need to ensure that the windows are spotless.

Suji Siv concludes, ?Many of our customers are delighted that we save them time and money when they realise they don?t need to provide cleaning products or purchase expensive cleaning equipment. That?s in addition to our very affordable, competitive pricing for a safe, environmentally friendly cleaning service that they can depend to make their premises more hygienic. We don?t charge any additional fees for cleaning on weekends, after hours or on public holidays, and we really are just a phone call away.?

Those who would like to enquire about the company?s high rise window cleaning service may contact Suji Siv directly via email or by phone to discuss their needs. More information regarding the full extent of their services can be found on their website along with a contact form for those who prefer to make enquiries online. Clean Group invites those active on social media to connect with them on Facebook to stay up to date with their informative blog posts, news and announcements.
