Vitamins Hair Cosmetics has revealed that their hair serum for damaged hair has received another rave review on their Amazon.com page. The customer pointed out that while she was skeptical at first, she was surprised to find that it really made her very thick hair very soft and silky feeling, plus it smelled good. The Vitamins Hair Serum Keratin Protein Treatment product is a hair moisturizer intended to rejuvenate the hair and make it shine and to repair dull and brittle hair. Its primary component is a herbal oils complex based on Moroccan argan oil. Argan oil may help in protecting the hair from dust and humidity. It may be able to do that by nourishing, strengthening, and moisturizing the hair. The result is that this keratin hair serum may be able to transform coarse and frizzy hair into smooth and healthy hair with hardly any tangles. This product has also been assured to be free from sulfates, parabens, and alcohol. It can also be used for blonded, bleached, color treated, thick, colored, curly, thin, fine, or straight hair.

In the recent five star review, Heather S. said, "I have really damaged hair and I have used several leave in conditioners and other products, but when I bought this I was skeptical but when I say this product is amazing I mean it, it smells so good my hair is super thick but this makes my hair so so soft and silky feeling, and it is so shiny, I am telling you this is the best product I have used in years, and will be my new hair product from now on. My daughter even had to use it when she noticed my hair. I have had hair stress for a very long time, not anymore.?

Another hair care product from Vitamins Hair Cosmetics is what is considered to be the best professional hair mask for damaged hair. Those who have already tried using this moisturizing protein hair mask have noted that it is the best hair mask they have used for damaged hair. They have observed that it may be able to revive damaged dry hair and repair split ends. This hair mask may also provide smooth, healthy, soft, and shiny hair. It may also be applied on heat and environmentally damaged hair where it was noted that may restore the hair's vitality. It has also been observed to possibly be able to repair damages to the scalp and hair cuticles while providing long lasting hydration.

This hair mask has also receive a recent five star review. Sylvia A. gave the product five stars and said, "It really makes unruly hair manageable, leaves it soft and helps with the frizz. I didn't like the scent, it's just not for me. If you want a product that works and is not too expensive, this is the one."

Still another product from Vitamins Hair Cosmetics that may also complement the hair serum is a keratin hair shampoo. It has been found by consumers to be able to clean and moisturize hair, while also adding to its volume. Thus, this keratin shampoo for hair may be able to provide clean, sleek, and smooth hair, while possibly providing gentle protection from damage by chemicals, humidity, and chlorine.
