September 01, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Richmond, Texas based company Big State Plumbing, announced recently that they will continue offering their flat rate fee for all residential and commercial plumbing services. The family owned and operated plumbing company has been in business since 1994, offering free estimates and one flat rate fee for most services.

The company offers a range of services from cleaning and repairs to pressure problems. A spokesperson for the company stated, "Whether you have a leaky pipe or you need your water heater replaced, we can handle any job big or small, and we still place our main focus on complete customer satisfaction."

The company states that affordable and reliable services are what they are all about. They strive to provide the very best in customer care, and to keep their customers calling on them for many years to come. With a number of office locations, they are equipped to handle nearly every plumbing problem in Texas.

Big State Plumbing has office locations throughout Texas, including the cities of Alvin, Angleton, Brazoria, Lake Jackson, Katy, Friendswood, Rosenberg, Richmond, Pearland, and Missouri City. They have recently expanded their operations to include Harris County, Fort Bend, and Galveston.

The company handles all plumbing jobs from simple tasks such as unclogging a drain to installing brand new sewer and septic systems. They are available for emergencies as well, as one Texas customer recently found out. "We were frantic to find a plumber when our water heater started leaking," says Marvin of Katy. "We called Big State Plumbing and they were here within half an hour. They saved us from so much damage to our floors. We just can't thank them enough."

Big State Plumbing handles a number of services from installing water softeners and water heaters to toilet repairs, drain cleaning, storm drain installation and repair, and faucet and sink installation. "Whatever you need, we're ready to assist," says a spokesperson for the company.

All technicians of Big State Plumbing are licensed and certified in the state of Texas. Those looking for more information about the company can visit their official website at bigstateplumbing.com.
