ShowerMeister, an Ontario, Canada based supplier of various shower-related items, would like to make local homeowners aware that the store supplies shower filters. The filters can remove harmful substances from water as well as soften hard water, making one?s shower experience more pleasant all around. Impurities found in shower water can have serious effects on one?s health, even being life threatening in some cases, and ensuring that their shower water is as pure as possible is an aspect of daily life that people should pay more attention to.

One of the most dangerous chemicals commonly found in shower water is chlorine. A number of researchers have looked into the use of chlorine in water and have found that this substance, despite its use as a disinfectant, can have serious negative effects on the human body. The chemical is harsh on skin, leaving it dry. It has a similar effect on hair.

?The worrying part is that most people don't know about the harmful effects of chlorine,? says ShowerMeister. ?If an asthmatic patient regularly showers in chlorinated water, it can make their case more acute. In the long run, it affects the eyes, lungs, kidneys and weight as well. The fact of the matter is that gases as a rule are less soluble in hot water, and when chlorine gets heated along with water, it steadily increases in the air to an extent where it affects all vital signs of life in the human body. Studies in animals have shown that chlorine adversely affects their ability to fight off disease. It effectively exposes them to various kinds of diseases. If you are a parent, then you should worry for your child, since chlorine attacks their airways more than it would an adult. Chlorine can even make you appear older by contributing to the signs of ageing on your body.?

People are starting to understand how serious the effects of chlorine can be on their bodies and have therefore begun using shower filters to try and combat the issue. ShowerMeister has a number of filters and other devices available that can help homeowners ensure their shower water is as pure as it can possibly be. The store supplies the highest quality filters, which not only remove chlorine but also its byproducts and other synthetic chemicals. It is important to get only the best when it comes to buying shower filters, and it is fortunate that one can find the best shower filters at ShowerMeister.

?Don't just go to the store and buy the first thing you see,? advises ShowerMeister. ?This means you should consider doing your research first before actually buying what you think is the best shower filter out there. You should read reviews that are available online, or in bed and bath magazines, to look for the right one that will fit your price range. You can also go window shopping and ask around at hardware stores for the different advantages and disadvantages of a certain brand of shower water filter. Pick the best shower water filter you can find that can be easily installed and fits comfortably within your price range. When finally installing your shower filter, make sure to follow the directions given and not just your gut feeling. Make sure that the instructions come in a language that you understand thoroughly too.?

ShowerMeister regularly reviews shower filters and offers advice on which models are better in certain situations. Some of their suggestions include the Apex Mr-7011 S, a simple but effective filter built to help with water rather than smells. The Sprite HO2 WH M is another one of their suggestions, produced by a very well-known manufacturer with a great reputation. Sprite has been around for many years, and they have, over the course of this period, proven the quality of their products many times over. The store?s number one recommendation, however, is the Aquabliss. No matter where one lives and how dirty the water is, the Aquabliss can purify the water to a satisfactory degree, allowing one to have an excellent shower in clean water.
