Lusso Gear Car Seat Organizer Gets Highly Positive Reviews

April 06, 2020

April 06, 2020 -

Lusso Gear has announced with pride that their car seat organizer has recently received more highly positive reviews. The company offers handcrafted car interior accessory products through Amazon.com. These include car seat organizers, baby mirrors for cars, car seat protectors, car trash cans, car air freshener bags, kids travel trays, and glove box document holders. This car seat organizer has been designed for either the front seat or backseat and features nine storage compartments for toys, tissues, magazines, books, games, documents, and more.

Alan, a spokesperson for Lusso Gear, says, "Forget the days of messy back seats full of toys, spilled drinks and baby gear. With this smart car or trunk organizer, you can tidy the back and front seat of your vehicle in just a few seconds! Keep the essentials you need inside the foldable container and travel in safety from now on. And indeed, people who have already purchased this car seat organizer have experienced how convenient it is and some have even left highly positive reviews on our Amazon.com page for this product."

In one recent five star review, D. Schenck said, "This is perfect for our car, it fits great and holds all the toys! Great buy! It saves us from a lot of clutter." In another five star review, Lisa said, "Great for between the 2 carseats! I love that it buckles in so it doesn't fly off the seat and spill everywhere if you hit the brakes. It is easy to access for both the kiddos and me!"

The car seat organizer found on their website here <https://www.lussogear.com/products/car-organizer> has nine different compartments as well as two large main areas, one zippered pocket to safely hold essential items and additional outer pockets, and four built-in cup holders for bottles. This car seat organizer has also been provided with two ergonomic handles to easily carry it around. A person can either hold this organizer from the handles or put the seat belt through them for more security. This will help people avoid the messy situation where storage boxes are sliding around and things falling down on the floor.

Lusso Gear also offers other products, such as kick mats and a car seat protector. The kick mats have three or four pockets and protect the backseat completely. These kick mat organizers have been designed to be able to fit all types of cars, including vans, jeeps, SUVs, trucks, and more. It has also been reliable for heavy duty application and it can be easily cleaned by using a washing machine.

Meanwhile, the car seat protector from Lusso Gear can be used as a child care seat or for sitting the baby comfortably. It combines reinforced stitching, comfortable padding, and trouble free maintenance. It has also been designed such that it will not slip nor slide because of its adjustable safety straps that can tie the seat cover securely to the headrest. This ensures the user that the seat protector will not be sliding off the seat or sliding under the legs. It also has anti-slip dots for additional grip. And to make sure that it is durable, it is made from high quality PVC leather. And for the purpose of avoiding damage caused by beverages or food spills, it has also been designed to be water-resistant.

Another helpful product available from Lusso Gear is the Kids Travel Tray. Its primary purpose is to allow children to keep their toys, books, and other gear in just one place while traveling. Parents can also use this product to put in certain things that can help keep their preschoolers, toddlers, including school age children preoccupied with their activities while traveling, particularly in a car. With the children preoccupied with their toys, books and other things, parents are able to concentrate on driving.

People who want to learn more about the car seat organizer can check out the Lusso Gear Amazon store page or the company website, or contact them through the telephone or their press release page here.
