

Jax Freedom Home Buyers COVID-19 Update: We Buy Houses In Jacksonville - The Safe Way

April 07, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Jacksonville, FL based Jax Freedom Home Buyers LLC has implemented many new options to facilitate safe property sales during the COVID-19 outbreak. The measures are in full compliance with current health guidelines and include social distancing measures, according to the company.

While many activities are being slowed or stopped altogether during the current health emergency, there are some that still need to be completed. As such, Jax Freedom Home Buyers remains open for business, allowing their clients to reach out to them if they require a quick and uncomplicated method by which to sell their unwanted property. "We know that people still need to sell real estate, and our services are now more necessary than ever for those who want to reduce the risks posed by human interaction," says Obi Dorsey of Jax Freedom Home buyers LLC. "We solve real estate problems, and we will continue to do so despite the challenges posed by the present crisis. We have several ways we can attend to your needs."

Clients who have been keeping up with the news will find the new safety measures being undertaken by the company to be quite familiar. Dorsey explains, "All we are doing is observing the social distancing and health guidelines being shared by officials," he says. "We buy houses, and we can buy your house with few or even zero people having to enter the property. You tell us what works for you, and we will work out a solution that makes sense and feels safe to you.?

One of the most important aspects of a more conventional real estate deal is the closing process, often involving an additional company and multiple meetings. However, Jax Freedom Home Buyers can close the purchase without putting their clients' health at additional risk by utilizing a drive-thru closing process. The company's own title company now allows clients to show their ID through the car window and sign important documents from within the safety of their vehicle. ?You can complete this important step by signing in your car, even with your favorite people or pets, all remaining safely in your own car,? Dorsey says.

As many will be aware, this version of the sales process will allow them to conduct their business without needlessly endangering themselves. The company's clients will not have to risk meeting anyone else face to face if they do not want to, and they can still have their home sold in short order without having to endure any delays.

Pictures and visual information for the property listing can also be handled safely by Jax Freedom Home Buyers. Dorsey and his team can accept pictures taken by owners of the property by text or email, in addition to offering their usual service of taking pictures of the house's interior themselves. If a client should choose this latter approach, Dorsey asserts that his team will be able to execute their work in full compliance with current COVID-19 health guidelines. They will need less than 15 minutes in the home and can minimize risk to the property's inhabitants. Dorsey suggests that the client, ?can open all the doors, turn on all the lights, and we literally will not touch a single thing in your house while we get the pictures.?

Even the timing of the deal can be defined by the seller during these uncertain times. Jax Freedom Home Buyers lets the client choose exactly when they want to close the deal. They advise sellers to choose a general date and then update later if circumstances change. Dorsey is confident that his team's ability to be flexible will allow them to work in accordance with their clients' requirements even under present conditions. He states, ?The close date is completely in your control, fast or slow. We will always agree to move the date at your request. So, whether you want to sell your house fast or prefer to take more time, we will accommodate your needs.? This gives sellers the option to close before important legal events?or delay until the sale is appropriate for them and their family.

Dorsey says, ?We've been here to serve Jacksonville for almost 15 years. We are here to serve you today, and we will be here to serve you tomorrow.? Further inquiries may be directed to Obi Dorsey or his team, and more information can be found on the company's website. The company encourages sellers to get in touch today to learn how many options they have at their disposal.
