

Mr. Chem-Dry Completes Rug Cleaning Job for Salt Lake City Home

April 08, 2020

April 08, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Mr. Chem-Dry, a professional rug and carpet cleaning services provider based in Centerville, Utah, has announced that they have recently completed a rug cleaning job for a home in Salt Lake City. The primary task was to clean an olefin carpet, which happens to be a kind of carpet that doesn't age well. The carpet fibers get hard and stiff as they age, which makes it very difficult to clean. The customer called them back because he was not satisfied with how the carpet looked after it was cleaned. They explained why the rugs and carpets looked the way they did and performed another cleaning job in spite of being aware that it may not come as clean as the customer wanted. However, the customer was satisfied with the work done after the second cleaning. More about the rug cleaning services from Mr. Chem-Dry can be gleaned from <https://www.mrchemdry.com/utah-rug-cleaning.html>.

Daryl Olsen, president of Mr. Chem-Dry, says, "When it comes to Utah rug cleaning in Salt Lake, Davis & Weber counties, there are some special considerations that need to be addressed. Our rug cleaning procedure is similar to the cleaning of carpets, but some rugs need some extra tender loving care because they might suffer from more abusive and extra traffic due to where they are located and the lesser emphasis on their cleaning, perhaps. We clean all kinds of rugs from small ones, to area rugs and oriental and decorative rugs. No matter the type of rug that you want us to clean, we will take the best approach to cleaning your rug as if it was our own property.?

Mr. Chem-Dry specializes in the cleaning of area and oriental rugs because they make a substantial addition to the decoration of the home. However, they tend to get dirty, especially those in high traffic areas in the home, and they have to be cleaned regularly. Area rugs actually function as filters for any unwanted dirt, bacteria, debris, allergens, and other items that can get circulated throughout the room by people walking back and forth in the area. Mr. Chem-Dry can either clean rugs right there in the house or they can bring them to the plant to do a more thorough cleaning. They will ensure that the proper procedure is performed in view of the delicate nature of rugs, while at the same time offering the thorough cleaning that is desired by the customer. More about the cleaning of oriental rugs can be gleaned from <https://chem-dry.net/mrut/services/area-and-oriental-rugs>.

Oriental rugs are usually the anchor point of a beautiful room. Such rugs have to be maintained properly by a Utah rug cleaning company like Mr. Chem-Dry to ensure that these rugs will last longer and function better. Furthermore, rugs are also used to protect the floors and carpets, and if these rugs are not protected properly, they won't be able to provide such protection. A good rug is expected to last a long time but rugs are often subjected to heavy traffic, especially with families in Utah who tend to have active lives.

The trained cleaning professionals from Mr. Chem-Dry are knowledgeable on taking care of rugs properly. They will use the company's proprietary green cleansing agents that will provide gentle but deep cleaning for rugs and carpets, leaving them clean, fresh, and protected.

Taking into account expensive and delicate Oriental and Persian rugs, they have specialized tools and equipment that are designed for whatever kind of materials that the rug is made of, whether it is cotton, synthetic fibers, silk, wool, or another variety. Families with children and pets can be assured that they are safe because the cleansing agents used by Mr. Chem-Dry are safe and non-toxic. These cleansing agents are also designed not to leave a residue after cleaning, which could easily attract more dust and dirt, resulting in a tacky film and damage to the carpet fibers.
