TNL Helps South Florida Small Businesses Survive During the Pandemic

April 13, 2020 -
The Net Lender (TNL) has announced that they are able to help South Florida small businesses survive during the current COVID-19 pandemic, which has caused more than 2,000 people in Florida to be hospitalized. With the economic slowdown caused by people being urged to stay at home to minimize the spread of the virus, businesses are being forced to have their employees work from home or not work at all. This situation is further exacerbated by people buying less as a way to minimize expenses until the crisis situation is over.

Meanwhile, in an article about money tips for new businesses, Casey Ryback, VP of TNL, had stressed the importance of having an accountant to help optimize the budget and save some money on tax. This article can be found at https://spacecoastdaily.com/2020/03/money-tips-for-new-businesses/. In this article, it is stressed that taking some steps to save money without negatively affecting the functioning of the business can help the business survive. Some of the possible steps that can be taken by smaller companies include working from home if possible to save on office rent; getting second hand equipment; cooperating with other businesses for marketing; outsourcing some tasks; and getting an accountant to help optimize the budget and save some money on tax.

And when in need of some emergency cash for the business, people can go to TNL. Same day approval can be provided in less than 15 minutes, and the cash can be available the following business day. The same speed of processing is not available from banks and other similar financial institutions. Banks usually take a week to approve an application for financial assistance, and there?s even no guarantee that the application will be approved. Such a delay is not acceptable, especially for a small business that is struggling to survive. Not having the cash on time may mean a lost opportunity for the business. It is during such situations that TNL can be a great help in making available some cash in just one business day. Those who would like to know more about TNL can do so by checking out the press releases regarding the company at https://www.pressadvantage.com/organization/the-net-lender.

TNL can offer cash assistance and all that would be needed is a vehicle title for a car, motorcycle, truck,

And to make the process even faster, people can use the TNL pre-qualification process through the telephone before driving to the store location.

TNL has been helping customers get the cash that they require for many years. During that time, they have focused on ensuring that they are able to offer honest and fair rates for the quick cash assistance that they provide. They can even work with the client to establish a payment plan that is suitable for the business? cash flow. Furthermore, they don?t have any extra costs or hidden fees that clients will need to pay later.

TNL recommends that those who are interested can apply online or call them on the phone. A staff member is ready to help them determine if they qualify for the cash assistance and will inform them on the amount that could be obtained. Once TNL has provided its approval, clients will simply need to submit some and documents and paperwork, such as a valid ID, proof of income, and the pink slip. They also recommend that applicants have their documents and paperwork ready as they apply. This is because the faster they are able to submit them, the faster they will be able to get hold of the cash.
