Love and Care HVAC Is Providing HVAC Services Plus During the Covid19 Crisis

April 13, 2020

April 13, 2020 -

Love and Care Heating and Air, also known as Love and Care HVAC, and is based in Sacramento, California, has announced that they will continue to provide HVAC services in spite of the Covid19 crisis. They are also proud to announce that they are offering the Air Scrubber Plus by Aerus for the next two months. The Air Scrubber Plus is an air cleaner based on the proprietary ActivePure® Technology of Aerus that utilizes light waves and a catalytic process to generate scrubber ions that eliminate dust particles from the air. Love and Care HVAC is offering the Air Scrubber Plus for just $795 and will be installing it for most HVAC systems. And for those who will be purchasing a new air and heating system, they will be installing the unit for free.

Tim Davidson, co-owner of Love and Care HVAC, says, ?The Air Scrubber Plus system is the same one used on space craft and the space station to help keep astronauts healthy. It is proven to remove allergens (big in the next three months here) and also in fighting many transmittable diseases. This unit cleans allergens, viruses and bacteria such as Staph, E. Coli, MRSA, Strep, Hepatitis A, and more.?

They continue to provide HVAC services, particularly in the northern California bay area despite the ongoing

Covid19 situation. To ensure the safety of everyone, they practice the recommended safety guidelines, such as social distancing, and customers need not worry when they go to the home. In addition to the standard services for air conditioning and heating issues, they also provide emergency HVAC services for those who have issues that need to addressed immediately.

Among the key services provided by Love and Care HVAC is professional AC repair services, which is expected to be in demand with the summer season approaching. Everyone in the area knows that the Central Valley heat can be quite overwhelming and it would not do to have a broken air conditioner. They are capable of providing professional services for all major brands of heating and air conditioning systems. They are an authorized dealer for Lennox, Ruud, Trane, and Goodman. They also carry various parts and supplies for all HVAC needs for the home. Their certified technicians will always start an AC repair job by elucidating on the system issues thoroughly and then explaining the appropriate solution for each particular problem. Thus, they are able to serve each of their customers with a customized and value-added service.

For air conditioners that are old and often require repair, it may be advisable to have them replaced. Love and Care HVAC recommends that homeowners and other property owners upgrade their air conditioning systems to enjoy the benefit of lower energy costs because of the higher efficiency of modern air conditioners. The HVAC company also offers a Preventative Maintenance Program through the Club Membership, where they service the unit two times a year and prepare the system for either the summer or winter season, and inform the owner of any potential problems that may arise.

For HVAC maintenance services, they want to point out they stand out from the crowd because of a number of factors. These include that fact that: all of their technicians are journeymen and not trainees; their technicians are certified and highly skilled specialists; they are considered as a top rated HVAC services provider; they are community focused as indicated by their support for local charities; they always pull permits; they have the biggest selection of financing options; and they have workers compensation insurance.

Tim Davidson says, ?We're truly dedicated to 100% customer satisfaction and personalized attention and strive to earn a 5 Star review on every single call. Our goal is to keep your home cool and comfortable in the summer and warm and cozy in the winter and to have you think of us first when your system needs attention.?

Those who are interested in HVAC services for Sacramento may want to check out the website of Love and Care HVAC, or contact them on the phone or through email.
###

For more information about Love and Care Heating and Air, contact the company here:Love and Care Heating and AirTim Davidson(916) 714-1143loveandcaretim@gmail.comLove and Care Heating and Air9912 Business Park Drive, Suite 185Sacramento, CA 95827https://loveandcarehvac.s3-us-west-1.amazonaws.com/index.html

Love and Care Heating and Air

Providing the best residential air and heating services to the greater Sacramento area. Call us today (916)714-1143

Website: https://www.loveandcarehvac.com/

Email: loveandcaretim@gmail.com

Phone: (916) 714-1143