President of Climate Control Heating and Cooling, Inc. David Dennis says, "Our customers know that we are there for them, no matter what, and will install, maintain and fix their HVAC, air conditioners and furnaces at any time, everyday. We are excited to be recommending the Daikin Air Intelligence systems due to its ease of use and the comfort it adds to a household. It is perfect for properties that have rooms that are either too hot or too cold. All rooms can be controlled with a simple touch of the remote. Adding Ductless Heating and Cooling to any home has never been easier, and it adds value to the property as well."

Their "Any time, Everyday" motto also covers the rates they charge their customers, no matter what time they receive the call, as their customers benefit from having the same rate for nights and weekends. Climate Control Heating and Cooling, Inc. has also kept abreast of recent advances and newer technologies that offer homeowners more options, are better for the environment and save money on energy costs. Ductless air conditioning units both cool and heat rooms, which allows those who are remodeling their home the ability to get exactly what they need without a major upgrade to their existing HVAC systems.

The company has received many requests for air conditioning and heating solutions. Their team is meticulous at sorting the problems out, and the company employs some of the most experienced ductless air conditioning specialists in the entire Kansas City area. Anyone with an issue can choose to call them directly from their website, or use their web chat feature to discuss their needs with Climate Control Heating, Cooling & Plumbing.

Those who require air conditioning in an older home that does not have ductwork have had limited options until recently. Over the last few years, advances in technology and the ability to connect the home seamlessly mean that installing air conditioning has never been easier, especially for older homes that do not have ductwork. Ductless air conditioning and heating is often the best solution.

Dennis continues, "What I like best about the Daikin Ductless system is that it is whisper quiet, so you barely know it's running. We have found that the Ductless Mini Splits offer some of the highest efficiencies in the market and may qualify even qualify for rebates and incentives. It's never been a better time to find out if ductless is right for you, particularly with the need to stay at home. Rest assured that we will make sure you and our own staff stay as protected as possible throughout any installation. Discover for yourself the advantages of choosing Ductless Intelligence and a Ductless Heat Pump on our website. We are sure you won't be disappointed."

Installing a ductless solution with Daikin Intelligence allows a homeowner to only heat or cool the specific rooms they are using at the time. This can save energy costs where rooms are not being used or do not need to be kept at the same temperature as the rest of the house.

Dennis also states that they have expanded their ductless air conditioning services for anyone with any type of ductless system in place. The company believes that many homes in the area will opt for ductless systems that can allow family members to set different temperatures in different parts of the home, ensuring that everyone is comfortable and no one has to compromise. When applied over time, such benefits not only save money, they can help maintain family harmony.

Those interested in finding out more about ductless air conditioning and how it can save them money can explore the subject further on the company's new and improved website. Climate Control Heating, Cooling & Plumbing, Inc. can also be found in The Ductless Directory.
