

Local Shipping Store in Erie, PA Practices Precautionary Measures for Their Location Amid COVID-19?

April 14, 2020

April 14, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Erie, Pa. As the spread of COVID-19 continues to impact the lives of people in the United States, many businesses have implemented new procedures to help protect the health of both employees and customers. As an essential service, many packaging and shipping stores are still open and operating. A local shipping store in Erie, PA, Erie Pack & Ship LLC, is remaining open for business and continuing to update its customers on the precautionary measures being taken.

In an effort to participate in social distancing and other recommendations from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), Erie Pack & Ship will be open Monday through Friday from 9:00 am to 6:00 pm, Saturdays 9:00 am to 1:00 pm. Precautionary practices within the store consist of, but are not limited to, wiping down surfaces and consumable items such as credit card terminals after each use. Management is also asking that customers take pictures of package labels and tracking numbers, as the store will not be providing receipts for prepaid drop-offs at this time.

Erie Pack & Ship would like to assure its community that the employees of the store are working hard to ensure that all packages are handled as securely and professionally as always and that the customers remain a top priority. In a statement from the business, owner Curt Raines said, "Being an essential business for our community during COVID-19, we understand that interacting with the general public is not highly suggested at this time. However, as local business owners, Barb and I felt it was our responsibility to be here in order to get precious goods to families. We have sent shipments of masks, gloves, insulin and dog and cat food to people that can't get out of their houses. We're glad that we're here to be able to help in those situations."
