April 27, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Cary, North Carolina based Carolina Buyer is reaching out to the wider community to announce that they are buying homes in Raleigh and the surrounding areas. The real estate solutions and investment firm specializes in helping homeowners quickly get rid of burdensome houses with a fair all cash offer.

Ed, a representative for Carolina Buyer says, "You may need to sell your house for any number of reasons. Maybe you're avoiding foreclosure. Maybe you're facing a divorce, moving or facing mortgage issues or liens. It doesn't matter whether you live in it, you're renting it out, it's vacant or not even habitable. We buy houses quickly and help homeowners who are stuck with an unwanted property."

The process of selling a property to Carolina Buyer is quick and easy. As the company's website states, there are only three steps involved: contact the company, get an offer, and if both parties agree to the offer, get paid. To get in touch with the company, property owners simply have to fill out a form on the Carolina Buyer website, providing basic details about the property that they are trying to sell. The company will then research the property, sometimes visiting it themselves, and come up with a fair cash offer. If the property owner likes the offer, they can get paid as soon as the house is sold.

Ed says, "If you choose to sell through a real estate agent by listing the property on a Multiple Listing Service, or MLS, it can take anywhere from a few months to a whole year, at the least, before you find someone who wants to buy your house. In that time, you'll still have to own the house and pay your taxes, bills and the other costs that come with owning a property. That's not counting the significant amount you'll have to invest to repair and renovate the house to get it ready for sale on the market. We offer a method for you to sell your house fast and with incredible ease. If you're selling to us, you will encounter none of the trouble you'll face by listing your property on the market. You will also get paid in cash as soon as the deal goes through."

What sets selling to Carolina Buyer apart from selling via a real estate agent is the fact that the company will buy the house no matter what condition it is in. Whether the property is facing foreclosure or is badly damaged and in need of extensive repair, the company does not mind. Carolina Buyer will deal with the repairs, back payments, liens and any other issues with the property themselves. By offering a fair cash offer below market value to owners who need to sell homes fast, Carolina Buyer is able to offer value to the homeowner beyond getting the largest sale price for their home.

Ed says, "If you contact us, get an offer and then decide not to sell, no harm done. All our offers are no obligation offers, which means that we won't hold a grudge against you if you choose not to sell to us. At Carolina Buyer, all we're trying to do is help people who are in financial trouble and are looking for a quick and painless way to get rid of their unwanted property and make some money. We do our best to come to an offer that is desirable to both you and to us, but we understand if you don't like the offer. In that case, you're free to not sell the house or perhaps look into selling via a real estate agent."

The services provided by Carolina Buyer are appreciated by homeowners who have found themselves in need of getting rid of their properties immediately. On the Google platform, the real estate solutions and investment firm has a perfect rating of 5/5 Stars. In a recent review, Jessica Weitz praises the company, saying, "I did a transaction with them and it went so well. I would really recommend them to anyone looking. 5 Stars!"
