Camden, NJ Personal Injury Law Firm Tus Abogados Locales Shares Date Of Next Webinar

April 16, 2020

April 16, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Camden, NJ - Tus Abogados Locales, a team of experienced personal injury lawyers in Camden, will be holding an informational webinar in the month of April.

Tus Abogados Locales is a network of attorneys who specialize in personal injury claims and lawsuits. They've earned millions of dollars in settlements and awards for previous clients in the state of New Jersey. Under a single roof, this team of lawyers manages many types of injury claims, including workplace accidents (workers' comp), social security disability (SSD), slip and falls, car crashes, and medical malpractice, among others.

David Petrone, Esq., one of the managing partners at the firm, expanded on the goal of the webinar, "our team of injury attorneys in Camden prides itself on having devoted their professional careers to standing up for the rights of victims injured in New Jersey. Indeed, we are stern believers in that, when the negligence of one person permanently affects the life of another, victims deserve to be compensated for their damages. Fortunately, the strong tradition of civil law in this state allows us to seek monetary remuneration for a wide gamut of damages, as it has allowed us to ensure that our clients and their loved ones are taken care of."

Petrone continued, "this series of educational webinars, the next of which will be held on April 16th, 2020, allow us to inform the local community on their legal options if they happen to suffer injuries. Most people don't understand what qualifies as damages or what kind of accidents can be considered a result of negligence, which puts them at a significant disadvantage when facing the insurance company. We're here providing this information because we want to level the playing field."

Persons interested in being part of this webinar should reach out to the Camden law office at info@tusabogadoslocales.com.
