Tree-friendly hammock straps, the latest product from Cedar Crest, NM based Nature's Hangout, have recently been launched and made available exclusively on Amazon.com. The announcement was first made on the company's website.

The launch of the adjustable straps marks Nature's Hangout's current rise among Amazon sellers of outdoor and recreation products. The company, whose main office is located in Cedar Crest, is optimistic about its recent product launch in the online marketplace. Neil, a Marketing Manager at Nature's Hangout, stated: "We at Nature's Hangout are always committed to bringing new and exciting products in the market. We are particularly excited to sell our hammock straps on Amazon.com, because it is a huge step in trying to promote our brand. Our customers will be pleased to know that our product is capable of doing the job."

These straps for hammocks are made from 100% no-stretch polyester, and are durable and safe. The product measures ten feet long, and one inch wide. The straps are made to withstand different weather conditions. In addition, they have 16 loops (32 combined), and 200 pounds per strap (400 pounds combined). The product is easy to use, and hammocks can be set up in less than a minute. Its "daisy-chained" loop system makes sure that customers do not need to tie complicated knots. This system allows hammocks to stay in position. Customers who purchase the product on Amazon are protected by a lifetime, no questions asked, and a money-back guarantee.

The product currently holds a 4.9 out of 5 stars rating on Amazon, with 55 customers leaving positive feedback for the product. Amazon customer Cynthia Camp wrote: "These hammock straps are very easy to use, and the flexibility with separation distances and various attach loops make it easy to attach any hammock. The case makes it easy to store the straps neatly. I highly recommend this product."

The company continues to take pride in its excellent customer service, as well as the durability and usefulness of its products. The tree-friendly straps for hammocks along with Nature Hangout's other products can be viewed on the company's website.
