SeboCalm has announced the availability of a moisturizer for sensitive skin acne prone through their Amazon.com page. Based on a clinically controlled study that was published in the Journal of Dermatological Treatment, this SeboCalm Facial Moisturizer may be used to minimize itchiness, redness, and flaky skin. It has also been observed to minimize the symptoms of seborrheic dermatitis, acne, rosacea, and blemishes. This is a moisturizer that has been recommended by dermatologists for the possible treatment for itching and rashes. This moisturizer has also been ascertained to be a cruelty free product and it also does not contain any cortisone, parabens, and sulfates.

A spokesperson for SeboCalm explains, "The SeboCalm Facial Moisturizer contains an improved, oil-free formula to soothe red, irritated and flaky skin. This moisturizer rapidly absorbs and prevents oiliness and shine. It is enriched with Vitamin E and Aloe barbadensis to soothe the skin and to retain its natural moisture, and plant extracts to absorb excess oil and to prevent enlarged pores. Its regular use leaves the skin looking smooth and vibrant."

This facial moisturizer has undergone hypoallergenic tests and sensitivity tests at the Institute of Skin Research in Israel. The findings have revealed that it may be used for all skin types, including normal, oily, dry, and combination skin. It may also reduce red, sensitive, irritated, and itchy skin symptoms. It may also be used to keep the skin pores closed and it may also be applied as a sun moisturizer or an after-shave moisturizer. People who have already tried using this moisturizer have noted that it feels non-oily, calming, gentle, and lightweight. And it was also noted to have a very high antioxidant characteristics. It is a cruelty free, vegan, and hypoallergenic moisturizer for both men and women of all ages.

Another SeboCalm product available through Amazon.com that can be used to complement the SeboCalm Facial Moisturizer is the SeboCalm Sensitive Skin Face Soap. This is a gentle face wash for sensitive skin that is recommended by dermatologists. It is a facial cleaning soap that is non oily and may be able to eliminate dirt and blemishes without irritating the skin. It may be used to clean skin pores. It is a water based face wash that may be used everyday. And its ingredients are made up of a unique combination of plant extracts. As such, it has extracts from seaweed, chamomile, coconut, and cornmeal. The seaweed extract is for conditioning the skin and keeping its elasticity. The concentrated chamomile extract is intended to soothe and relieve sensitive and red skin. And the extracts from cornmeal and coconut are skin-friendly ingredients that offer sufficient but gentle cleansing without resulting into dry and irritated skin.

Meanwhile, aside from the SeboCalm Facial Moisturizer, also available on Amazon.com is the SeboCalm Pore Minimizer Face Toner for Sensitive Skin. This is a vegan and hypoallergenic facial skin toner for exfoliating and redness relief. It is water based and is intended for application on the face and neck. It has been clinically and dermatologically tested to be a safe product for skin health. It has also been ascertained to be free from parabens, sulfates, and alcohol. It may be used for minimizing eczema, dryness, redness, blemish, pimples, rosacea, and blackheads. It may also be able to provide skin disinfection and refine the skin pores. It can exfoliate the skin and shrink the pores to control sebum and oily face. Its ingredients are made up of a unique combination of extracts from plants, particularly Aloe barbadensis and cucumber. The plant extracts combined with the amino acids and sugars in this alcohol free face toner for sensitive skin have been observed to improve moisture binding and soften the skin. This face toner also has lactic and glycolic acid to get rid of dead skin cells and to stimulate regeneration of skin.
