SeboCalm has announced the availability of a gentle face wash for sensitive skin on their Amazon.com page as part of their sensitive skin care line of products. All of these products have been ascertained to be hypoallergenic and have been dermatologically tested for sensitive skin. The SeboCalm Sensitive Skin Face Wash was designed to provide deep cleansing of the skin while not drying it. It is a non oil and rich facial cleansing soap that may be able to get rid of dirt on the skin while decreasing blemishes without skin irritation. It has also been designed to be a face wash for daily use to provide soothing relief for damaged skin. It is recommended by dermatologists as a skin pore cleaner and it has been ensured to be free from parabens and sulfates.

A spokesperson for SeboCalm says, "This is an especially gentle facial cleanser for sensitive, red, irritated skin. It is based on an innovative formula containing sulfate-free cleansing ingredients (SLS-free) derived from Cornmeal and Coconut known for their corrective qualities. Its ingredients are friendly for both the skin and the environment allowing for daily use without leaving the skin feeling dry or irritated."

Sensitive skin has a tendency to be easily irritated by certain chemicals. Thus, the ingredients for skin care products like this face wash from SeboCalm have been carefully selected to ensure that these will not irritate the skin. Products for sensitive only contain carefully selected, pure, fragrance oils that have been proven not to cause skin irritation. This is in contrast to the usual non-hypoallergenic skincare products, which often contain approximately 100 different ingredients. Specifically, this face wash for sensitive skin from SeboCalm has been ensured to be free from parabens and sulfates.

Meanwhile, another product from SeboCalm that is part of their sensitive skin care line and can complement the face wash is the SeboCalm Pore Minimizer Face Toner. This alcohol free face toner for sensitive skin is based on a number of plant ingredients. These plant ingredients are the Aloe barbadensis and cucumber extracts. It also has lactic and glycolic acid, which have been observed to stimulate the regeneration of skin and help in getting rid of dead skin cells. And the extracts from cucumber and Aloe barbadensis, sugar, and amino acids are intended to soften the skin by enhancing moisture binding.

Still another product that is part of the SeboCalm sensitive skin care line is the SeboCalm Redness Relief Face Moisturizer. This moisturizer is for keeping the skin moisturized throughout the day naturally. Those who have already tried using this moisturizer say that it feels non greasy and lightweight. Clinical research has shown that it may be able to decrease the symptoms of seborrheic dermatitis, blemishes, acne, and rosacea. This face moisturizer is dermatologist recommended for skin rash and itching. It may also be able to keep the skin pores as small as possible. It can also be used as a moisturizer for a person who has been exposed to the sun or after shaving.

Sulfates can irritate sensitive skin and have also been observed to cause clogged pores and acne. The sulfates contained in skin care products are there to create the familiar frothy lather, making it easier to eliminate oil, dirt, and other chemicals from the face or skin. Sodium lauryl sulfate or SLS is often utilized for this and it is generally considered to be a safe ingredient of cosmetic products. However, the problem is that SLS may be too effective in getting rid of oil from the skin, with the result that the skin becomes brittle and dry. As for the parabens, these are often used because of their cleansing capabilities. These are also used as preservatives to extend the shelf life of the product. However, parabens have been found to produce allergic reactions, an increase in estrogen production, premature aging, and interference with the human endocrine system. Thus, the SeboCalm moisturizer for sensitive skin acne prone has also been ascertained to be free from parabens and sulfates.
