Wayne Van Meter from Yard Busters Landscaping says, ?Before you begin your sod installation consider where the grass is being installed. Check to make sure that the area is not draining towards your house. And make sure that large trees are not preventing sunlight from reaching your grass. Also, check to make sure that your existing vegetation does not remove too much water, creating a deficit for your new sod. Once there is a plan in place to manage your unique environment, we can then help you choose the ideal type of grass for your sod installation.?

A lawn care professional from a landscaping service company like Yard Busters Landscaping can visit a property and quickly determine the condition of the lawn and what is needed going forward. These professionals can provide weekly maintenance work, such as mowing and watering, or for longer arrangements that include seasonal care throughout the year, such as weeding, seeding, fertilizing, and aerating. And for lawns that have more dead plant matter than grass, sod installation can be provided.

Finding a lawn care professional can be done in a number of ways. One of the best ways is through word of mouth, for instance, asking the neighbours who have great looking lawns who is their service provider. Also, when looking for a lawn care professional, it is important to take the specific needs of the lawn into account. For instance, if the home has a large lawn, it may need bigger machinery and it may be a good idea to find a larger lawn care service company. Various other services can be provided by Yard Busters Landscaping. One is the spring and fall yard and garden cleanup where they will blow out all leaves from the beds and shrubs, rake and then bag all of the leaves, perform a first or final cut for the lawn, and then haul all of the debris away.

Yard Busters Landscaping will also utilize high powered coring machines to puncture the lawn surface and remove a two to three inch core. This is for compacted lawns to provide them with thousands of oxygen channels that will allow the roots to grow without hindrance. These channels permit water, oxygen, and other nutrients to pass easily back and forth from the lawn surface to the root system. This allows better water efficiency, oxygen utilization, and nutrient uptake, which are important due to the changing climate of Calgary that can become quite warm in July to September.

Yard care services include lawn mowing, power raking, top dressing, fertilizer, gardening, hedge and tree trimming, snow clearing, and more. For instance, top dressing is essential because over time, soils lose nutrients and top producing healthy plant matter. Top dressing reintroduces decomposed organic matter to provide the soil with nutrients. They can also provide lawn and garden fertilizer services. By applying the appropriate chemicals to the lawn and garden, steady growth is guaranteed all season long. Their premium slow release, granule fertilizers the lawn and garden will be provided with a balanced diet of nitrogen, potassium, and phosphorus, including subtle micronutrietns.
