Health and safety always go hand in hand. More so during a crisis, according to Tripp Brothers Non-Slip Treatments, a floor safety company based in Bluffton, South Carolina.

Even before the coronavirus pandemic, there are approximately 25,000 people daily going to hospitals from injuries due to slip and fall. Now with the "stay at home rule" of the government, more people can be prone to these types of accidents, the Bluffton company said.

The Best Floor Safety Professionals in Bluffton, SC also said that the number one cause of accidents at home is slip and fall. Among the common reasons why these accidents happen are the following: wet and slippery floors, damaged flooring, and damage walkways. If these problems are not addressed, a bigger problem may occur.

With the current threat of Covid-19, there is also a higher risk in hospitals, the Tripp Brothers Non-Slip Treatments said. Emergency rooms at hospitals are much needed for Covid-19 patients. It is too risky because of the possibility of contracting the virus. Therefore, adding another life and death situation to the ER is not helpful at all.

But anyone can help during this crisis by preventing and being extra careful to avoid slip and fall accidents at home. When it comes to floor safety, Tripp Brothers Non-Slip Treatments is the name trusted in Bluffton, SC. The company offers varied non-slip treatments for all types of flooring. They provide treatment for porcelain non-slip floor tiles, non-slip floor tiles for showers, non-slip kitchen flooring, and non-slip laminate flooring, among others.
