August 27, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

BodyCandy.com, a jewelry and accessory store in Amherst, NY, are proud to announce that they have launched their new officially licensed line of NFL body jewelry. The NFL Body Jewelry from BodyCandy.com has been launched just in time for the preseason. Additionally, since the regular season will start very soon, this is an opportunity for people to support their favorite team. The styles available include tongue rings, belly button rings, and industrial barbells.

Nicole Szymanski from BodyCandy.com says: "We love our new line of NFL jewelry! Because we are committed to offering only the highest quality jewelry from our store, we had to wait until this line was just right to release it. We couldn't be happier that this happened at this time, just before the preseason and upcoming season."

The line of jewelry includes the Dallas Cowboys, the Seattle Seahawks, the Denver Broncos, the New England Patriots, the San Francisco 49ers, the Miami Dolphins, the Green Bay Packers, the Chicago Bears, the NY Giants, and more. In fact, it covers all the different NFL teams, so nobody has to feel left out. Each piece uses the exact colors and design associated with the team, which has been carefully worked into the pieces of jewelry.

"We encourage everybody to like us on Facebook for our weekly giveaways," adds Nicole Szymanski. "It is a chance to win a piece of jewelry from your favorite team."

BodyCandy.com is very active on social media. In fact, it is through customer comments on their Facebook page that they first became interested in carrying a line of NFL jewelry, as this is something that was asked for repeatedly. The company was only too happy to oblige once they were accepted to the licensed line. They are very excited to see how their customers will enjoy the pieces as well.

"Follow us on Instagram to see our customer's favorite jewelry pieces," adds Nicole Szymanski. "We love to see people's photographs and can't wait to see our jewelry working its magic at the next major NFL games. We'll feel as if we are there in a way."
