TLE Educates Atlanta Consumers On Financial Discrimination

May 04, 2020 -
Title Loans Express (TLE), a leading provider of financial assistance, is pleased to share that they are helping Atlanta, Georgia based consumers take control of their financial affairs. Across the US, many remain concerned about the possibility that financial discrimation based on color, which was an issue prior to the 2016 election, may still exist for some types of financial lending. In similar news, the company has extended their services in order to help those who are feeling the financial toll of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Concern over the matter of financial discrimination based on color alone dates back before the last Presidential election and was summarized by Americans for Financial Reform in ?Will Congress Endorse Discrimination in Auto Lending?? Since 2015, the situation has not improved radically, and concerns endure that a person of color would be forced to pay a significantly higher interest rate for car financing than they would if they were white. The article can be read in full at http://blog.ourfinancialsecurity.org/2015/11/will-congress-endorse-discrimination-in-auto-lending/.

A spokesperson for the company states, ?The Consumer Financial Protect Bureau has worked hard to eliminate discrimination pertaining to financial assistance. There is more work to be done, but rest assured we are doing our best to provide equal opportunity and help anyone take charge of their financial affairs. We have decades of experience helping people understand their financial affairs so that they can get quick financial assistance when they need it most. We are proud to say that we can offer one of the most efficient online processes, which means many do not actually need to visit any of our offices. We have also expanded our educational resources through our website and are happy to help anyone in the greater Atlanta area understand their options.?

TLE has maintained a distinguished reputation across the US, helping thousands of families get through difficult situations. While the pandemic and its consequences are completely unprecedented, the company stands ready to help those who have taken advantage of their service to obtain the financial assistance they require. Complete details of their services and their educational resources can be found on their official website, here: https://www.titleloansexpress.com.

The company was recently quoted by several well known international news websites for comments pertaining to the possibility of a looming recession, something many families and businesses feared even before the pandemic news broke in January. TLE?s spokesperson was quoted, ?If we simplify today?s global economy, it all comes down to one thing, and that is the fact that everything is digital.? TLE was also quoted stating, ?The point is that a recession will come, eventually. Current events have maneuvered the global economy to a point where it is inevitable, but we can?t exactly say when that will be. However, we can say that, when the recession hits, the effects we see might be different from what we saw the last time there was a recession.?

Even before the outbreak of COVID-19, many families were struggling to manage their debts through no fault of their own. The escalation of trade wars, that commenced with the current administration, and worsening relationships has weakened business confidence. A change in the administration may not be enough to stave off a recession, however, with the financial impacts of the pandemic expected to last at least a year and possibly much longer.

TLE knows that hard times can hit anyone completely out of the blue. An unexpected medical bill, time off work and other issues have hit families before. The lockdown has had huge ramifications for those who are unable to work from home. The current situation, with record numbers of Americans becoming unemployed, has meant that anyone seeking financial assistance from banks could face additional scrutiny, causing many to avoid drawing unwanted attention to their financial affairs.

Fortunately, TLE is able to offer express financial assistance and title loans in atlanta, with a decision for approval becoming available within 15 minutes. It is as simple as speaking with their representative or completing their online application process. Following approval, a number of documents need to be provided to complete an application. Their streamlined service means that applicants can often receive the amount they required on the same day, wired directly into their bank accounts or made available at any MoneyGram location.

Those who are interested in the financial assistance that TLE may be able to provide can find further information on their website. Further details about TLE can be found here: https://www.pressadvantage.com/organization/title-loans-express.
