IN based Low Price Auto Glass Hammond is reaching out to the members of their community to announce that their windshield replacement services will continue to be available amid the COVID-19 pandemic. As an establishment that enjoys a high rating on multiple review platforms, the company understands the need to maintain their services during the present situation. As such, they have committed themselves to carrying out windshield replacements in order to ensure their customers? vehicles are always in drivable condition.

?A cracked or broken windshield may have been more of a temporary nuisance prior to the pandemic taking place,? notes the company. ?Even then, there are many careers and tasks that would be impossible to complete without a fully functioning vehicle. Today, with the COVID-19 pandemic at the top of everyone?s concerns, no one wants to be stranded just because they cannot drive without a fully intact windshield. We are here to keep you on the road at all times, and we endeavor to see that your life won?t be adversely affected just because you are unable to safely drive your vehicle.?

Low Price Auto Glass Hammond?s observations extend in particular to the country?s essential workers, many of whom rely on private transportation in order to keep themselves safe on their daily commute. As such workers are considered an absolute necessity in order to keep the country running, it is vital that they be able to travel unhindered. A broken windshield that either prevents them from traveling or forces them to undergo a greater risk of infection on public transport can have far-reaching consequences at this time, affecting many more people than the owner/driver of the vehicle in question. Similarly, the company does not wish for a family to be unable to go out to purchase groceries.

However, they also remind their customers that they should not panic if they notice a small fault in their windshield. While it is generally not that dangerous to drive with a small crack in the windshield, such issues should be repaired or replaced as promptly as possible. This is due to the fact that a cracked windshield can decrease visibility on the road, a problem that can be severely exacerbated during occluding weather (such as rain, snow, and so on). More importantly, however, Low Price Auto Glass Hammond states that even a relatively minor crack in an otherwise pristine windshield can reduce the overall protection it provides. They are also more prone to shattering.

It is in a driver?s best interest to get a small crack addressed by a professional as such a problem warrants a minor investment to remedy at this stage. Should the crack deepen or, in worst case scenarios, lead to the windshield losing its integrity altogether, the cost of repair or replacement can be much higher. Furthermore, a crack can also allow moisture and debris to collect between the layers of the glass, possibly hindering visibility and making it more costly to fix.

Low Price Auto Glass Hammond?s customers tend to recognize the sheer value in their services, going so far as to leave glowing reviews online. For instance, Dmitriy Dorosh states in their 5-Star Google review that, ?A few weeks ago, I purchased a used car and drove it from Dublin to SJ. During the rainy and windy commute, a pebble/rock dinged my windshield and left a good dime sized chip that was starting to spread. The next day, I Yelped to find a reasonable chip repair shop and decided to go with Low Price Auto Glass due to great reviews, last minute availability and affordable prices. I wish I took a before picture to show the difference (look hard for the small fill). As with all chip repairs, the fill will never be 100% invisible.?

The review continues, ?However, considering the depth of the chip and size, I was truly satisfied with the final outcome. This is definitely a business that is honest and provides quality work.? New customers are welcome to check out the rest of this review, and more like it, on the same platform.
