Alpha Therapeutics LLC, a cannabidiol (CBD) manufacturer in Phoenix, Arizona, has announced that they are one of the private label CBD manufacturers that produce full spectrum soft gel CBD products. The raw formulated softgels are a CBD product extracted from high potency hemp. Each softgel has been infused with concentrated hemp CBD oil that has been carbon dioxide extracted from agricultural hemp and has been determined to contain 25 mg of CBD. Thirty softgels are contained in one bottle and each softgel contains hemp oil, medium chain triglyceride (MCT) oil, and bovine gelatin.

This CBD manufacturing company has both the knowledge and the experience in manufacturing different kinds of high quality CBD products either directly or as a white label CBD manufacturer. They can partner with client companies to ensure that they will come up with a new formula that complies with a particular product development.

Geoff Dada, CEO of Alpha Therapeutics LLC, explains, "Those who are looking for a private label CBD oil manufacturer in Phoenix, Arizona, or those who require custom CBD oil manufacturing for their own CBD product line can come to us. Our organic, fair trade plants are triplicate tested to ensure exceptional CBD quality. We are capable of meeting all your white label and wholesale CBD oil manufacturing needs. You can call us for a free consultation.?

Alpha Therapeutics can work with clients in making sure that a new formula is developed to meet the specific product requirements, for instance, a full spectrum softgel CBD product. Because of the company's expertise and equipment, the development cycle need not require several months or even years to go from an idea to a prototype. They also have the expertise and the knowledge to develop difficult formulations for a wide range of products including those in the beauty industry. They can provide help to clients in determining the proper mix of ingredients for their particular product. They can adjust the labels, sizes, and testing requirements without jeopardizing the high quality standards for the CBD products.

Alpha Therapeutics ensures that they only make use of organic and natural ingredients. They also have a team whose members are creative and can think out of the box. They have developed the reputation of being a leading manufacturer of CBD products and a dependable formulator of custom CBD products. The CBD products that they manufacture get to store shelves quickly while complying with the highest standards.

Alpha Therapeutics has also established a CBD manufacturing facility that can assure their clients that their formulation procedure will include rapid development, potency guarantee, quality assurance, research and development, consultant's advice, creative design, and true labeling. Certified laboratories, oversight, stringent inspection, and testing are all part of the manufacturing plants' standards that are assured by the company.

Aside from the softgel CBD product, the company also offers organic CBD massage oil. This is made from 100 percent organic ingredients, including hemp seed oils, MCT, high oleic sunflower oil, cannabinoids, and terpenes. This product is for whole body massage. They also manufacture topical transderm healing balm, which may be used for pain relief through application on the painful area.

Other CBD products that are available from Alpha Therapeutics include the Live Hemp CBD Oil with syringe style applicator. They also offer the CBD System Tincture, which is applied under the tongue for immediate absorption and then swallowed. The hemp CBD oil that they use contains essential vitamins, high quality cannabinoids, chlorophyll, minerals, and fatty acids.

Alpha Therapeutics also manufactures CBD products for dogs. The specific product they offer is the Pet 500. One bottle of the Pet 500 contains 30 ml in volume and 500 mg of CBD oil for dogs. It has been noted that this particular CBD oil may help with dog seizures.

Those who are interested in wholesale organic CBD production can check out the Alpha Therapeutics LLC website, or contact them on the telephone or through email.
